Skiing Over Christmas Break: It's On!

By Chloe Kneer - School is out until after the new year and we've received ample snow. It's the perfect recipe for Espanola's ski hill Boogie Mountain, which opened last weekend. The hill began preparing long before winter arrived and this year promises to be one of the busiest with ski school being added, thanks to a grant from the Ontario Trillium Fund. Brendon O'Farrell will run the program to teach new skiers, or help those who feel they need a refresher.

Also new this year are school ski days with all of the local schools participating by allowing students to ski three days over three weeks. Coordinator Heather Wilson says, "We had a lot of success with hosting the schools, as once the students try it, they really want to keep skiing during regular ski days which are Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6:30 - 9:30 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday

The Butterball Hotline - Comedy Central For Turkeys.

Did you know there's an information call centre available at this time of year known as the Butterball Turkey Talk-Line? Over Thanksgiving and Christmas 50 professionally trained home economists offer North American callers tips on cooking turkeys. Apparently not every family chef has the talent or the recipe to deliver a turkey from freezer to oven to Christmas table in mouthwatering, crispy-skinned perfection. Some map out a different route for the holiday bird like from freezer to sauna, to car's overheated manifold to garbage disposal to: "Hello Ming, could I have the "Dinner for 24 Special" with extra fortune cookies?" Many questions asked of the hotline staff are ... how can I say this ... okay, insane. Like the woman in Kentucky who phoned the hotline to ask how to get her pet Chihuahua out of the turkey. She tried shaking the turkey and pulling the dog's legs but nothing worked. The hotline person walked her through the process of carefully cutting the cavity into a larger opening in order to let the dog out. Or the young mother who failed to notice her kids parking their toy cars in the cavity of the oven-ready turkey until the bird had been roasted. Her question was: "Do you think a plastic stuffing could be harmful if we don't actually eat the plastic itself?" My answer would have been: "No, any toxins from plastic can be neutralized by adding wood chips." One caller said: "I'm really in trouble. I made a mess of this thing!"

Hotline staffer: "Tell me, what state is your turkey in?"
 Caller: "Florida."
 One angry request from a caller: "No, I said 'boat' not 'float.' Put me through to the gravy department."
 The following are actually questions to the turkey hotline; the answers I made up.
 Question: "If I carve the turkey up with a chainsaw, would there be a problem with the motor oil?" (Not just an 'actual' question from a man but the 'most often asked' question from men.)
 Answer: "No problem. And if it's the four-cycle engine oil and you add mashed cranberries, it makes for a real nice reduction."
 Question: "I heard if you put popping corn in the turkey's cavity you can tell it's done when you hear the popping."
 Answer: "If you do not have a meat thermometer, this is the method we recommend. Four handfuls of popping corn in the hole and when the popcorn blows the ass-end off the bird, she's good to go!"
 Question: "I'm carving the turkey and it doesn't have any breast meat."
 Answer: "Your turkey is upside down."
 Question: "The wrappers on my turkey says it's a self-basting turkey. Do I have to baste it?"
 Answer: "Only the inside. The outside bastes itself. That's what the wings are for."
 Question: "My turkey wouldn't fit in the freezer so I buried it in the snow bank and it's still snowing and I can't find it."

Answer: "If you don't own a pitch fork or one of those flesh magnets, tell your neighbours you want to take their dog for a walk. He'll find it. And he'll like it. Bring a stick."

Question: "Can I brine my turkey in the washing machine?"

Answer: "No but you can tenderize it in the dryer."

Question: "I know it's 4 hours at 325° for a 15 lb. turkey but I'm in a hurry. Can I cook the turkey in half the time if I put the oven on a cleaning cycle?"

Answer: "Yes, and the turkey will self-clean along with the oven."

Question: "The directions say to roast the turkey but my oven only has "bake" or "broil." Which one do I use?"

Answer: "Both. You need to cook the turkey with what we call the "switch roast method" Stand at the oven and switch the dial from bake to broil to bake every two minutes."

Question: "I'm having a lot of people over for Christmas dinner. Where can I get a 36-pound turkey?"

Answer: "A 36-pound bird is not a turkey. It's an ostrich. Plucking a bird this size can be a real problem unless you kill it first."

Question: "I had my turkey on the back porch to keep it frozen and ... it's gone!"

Answer: "Wish the raccoons a Merry Christmas and go with a festive favorite meal, the "Italiano cena trasportare." Take-out pizza."

Question: "Where can I find my turkey's serial number?"

Answer: "It's under the turkey's back bumper next to the blinker."

Question: "I think my turkey just coughed!?"

Answer: "That was not a cough. Occasionally in the thawing out process, gas can build up if the cavity stays sealed at the back of the bird and ... light a match, okay."

Question: "If I put my cell phone inside the turkey, can you tell me if it's done?"

Answer: "Yes. If you hear the Christian Mission ring tone "I'm Ready To Serve," it's done. But if you hear the ring tone of Def Leppard's "Long, Long Way To Go" you have approximately a long, long way to go."

Best question ever: "Martha here, how big a turkey should I get for 1,500 hungry, female cons?"

Answer: "Have you thought about a pride of ostriches?"

Needless to say, many of the 1,800 calls are referred to 911.

Recipe

Christmas Morning Breakfast: Ham And Egg Breakfast Cups With Hash Browns

- 8 slices of deli ham
- 4 tbsps shredded cheddar cheese
- 3 green onions, finely chopped
- 8 eggs
- 1/8 tsp pepper

Hash Browns

- 1 pound Idaho potatoes
- 2 green onions, thinly sliced
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil

Ham and Egg Cups:

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees F. Coat 8 muffin cups with cooking spray. Set aside. Position 1 slice of ham in each of the muffin cups, doubling each slice over to insure that there are no holes in the bottom of the ham "cups." Sprinkle 1/2 tablespoon of the cheese and about 1/2 tablespoon green onions in the bottom of each cup. Place one raw egg in each ham cup. Sprinkle each egg lightly with pepper. Bake about 15 minutes or to desired degree of doneness. Carefully remove the egg cups using the ham to lift onto serving plates.

Hash Browns:

Peel potatoes. Grate them using the coarse side of the grater and squeeze out water. Place grated potatoes in a small bowl and toss with green onions, salt and pepper. Heat 1/2 tablespoon vegetable oil in a nonstick 10-inch skillet over medium-high heat until very hot. Place potato mixture in pan and flatten to cover bottom with a spatula. Cook for 7 minutes or until deep, golden brown. Place a dinner plate over skillet and flip them both over, so browned side of hash browns is facing up. Place remaining oil in skillet and reduce heat to medium. Carefully slide hash browns back into skillet and cook for an additional 6 minutes, or until deep golden brown. Remove from pan and cut into wedges.

Holiday Ribbon Plates

This is a fun and simple way to dress up a paper plate when you share your Holiday treats.

- Paper plates, any colour or size (you can use plastic plates, but they're harder to punch)
- Hole punch
- Ribbon, craft ribbon or curling ribbon
- Treats

Punch holes about every inch all the way around the edge of the plate. Then pick a spot to start and thread the ribbon through each hole. There are a few ways you can thread the ribbon. It can be up and down or around and around. Both look pretty. Once the ribbon has been through each hole, make sure both ends are even to tie it together in a bow. Now fill the plates with some of your favourite treats and they're ready for family and friends!
