Lace-up for the 37th Annual Friendly Massey Marathon

By Chloe Kneer – On occasion, runners, or anyone avidly into racing sports of any sort, experience what's called a "photo finish." Generally, something drastic happens right at the end, leaving spectators wondering, "how did that happen?" The Massey Marathon (Voyageur Marathon, Friendly Massey Marathon – it's had many names over the years) almost didn't happen this year. It would have been a devastating turn of events for the town, which had hosted the annual running race for 36 years. However, in true "photo finish" style, Dave Stonley stepped in when he heard the marathon may be cancelled. He phoned a few friends, and together, they made certain the marathon would go on as planned; it is set for this weekend.

Securing a healthy crop of volunteers for any event or cause is always a challenge. However, in order for traditions to continue, community members must step up and play a part. "This event essentially puts Massey on the map. It is definitely a community identifier," says Stonley. The marathon is expected to have over 200 participants

Plan your summer ... what! The "Testicle Festival !!?"

So you're lining up the summer festivals you plan to attend before you blink twice and it's Labour Day already. From Vancouver's Spot Prawn Festival to Drummondville's Festival de la Poutine to PEI's Wild Blueberry Festival – most Canadian summer fairs are based on food. Most but not all.

Besides a whole bunch of bathtub races, highland games and fishing derbies, there's the Accordion Extravaganza in Edmonton which for three days attracts tens of thousands of music lovers ... to Calgary!

Buzzard's Restaurant in Calgary is home to this summer's "Testicle Festival" where visitors will be served prairie oyster fritters and bacon-wrapped "tendergroin." When the Royal Couple visited the Calgary Stampede in 2011, they introduced an all-new testicle tasting called – I'm not making this up – "The Crown Jewels." At the cowboy bar called Buzzard's also known as "The Cajones Club," sissies will be roughed up at the door.

Calgary will also host the "International Festival of Animated Objects." It mostly stars puppets and stooges but some members of the Canadian senate will also be featured this year.

If eating the deep-fried reproductive organs of an uncastrated member of the ox family gives you indigestion, do I have a festival for you. Gas Fest. Just down the lake from me in the sleepy village of Selkirk, Ontario from August 9 to 11, residents will celebrate the sudden emission of wind from one of two anatomically-disturbed gas wells. At Gas Fest an audible eruption at both ends gets you crowned Grand Marshal Of Alka-Seltzer & Kaopectate Parade. The Brits call this feat "the double collywobble."

Actually Gas Fest features none of the above and instead celebrates the town's early exploration of natural gas. Kicked off by a church BBQ, the fair offers arts, crafts, beach volleyball and a baby contest in which the winning burp will be measured on a sound meter in nearby Cheapside.

Hundreds of Elvis Impersonators will once again descend on Collingwood, Ontario where crotch-grabbing and hip-thrusting will be tolerated for the entire three days of the festival but organizers warn that some lips may become permanently curled up. Weird is the only word for Islendingadagurinn. That's the Icelandic Festival in Gimli, Manitoba which sees a maid of the mountain (Fjallkana) crowned the queen and the demonstration of Icelandic warfare tactics since 1924. Iceland prides itself in never having been successfully invaded for the past 90 years due mainly to the strategy of inviting the enemy over for a dinner of hangikjot and lavfabravo. United Nations crime investigators are looking into reports that some prisoners of war were served kutmagar.

The Fibre Arts Festival in Gibson's Landing, British Columbia will feature seminars in crocheting, quilting, weaving, felting and spectators nodding off by the hundreds. Faced with dwindling attendance, organizers plan to add "Indiscriminate Binge Drinking" to this summer's program.

Canada you say, a country with strange summer celebrations? The East Coast Garden party where they drink Mooseland Beer, eat cod tongues and dance to East Coast Celtic bands is held in ... Grande Prairie, Alberta. That may be great "craic" as they say in Newfoundland but it's also bad geography. Trauma experts will be available to work with hung-over Newfies who wake up watching a rodeo.

Up in the Yukon at Watson Lake locals will be guiding tourists on walks through the Forest of 70,000 Signs. In 1942 an American soldier posted a board showing the distance to his home in the United States and the signs have just kept going up. People passing though the forest are encouraged to nail their own signs to a tree. At 70,000 signs, mine would be a 'STOP' sign. And finally, the greatest summer 'heat beater' of all time – Nudestock North.

You may not have been at Woodstock and your dog may not have attended Woofstock but you and your birthday suit are more than welcome at a 'naturalist camp' at Puslinch, just north of Toronto. Motto: "Grin and bare it all." The nudist camp is called Ponderosa and no – for all the hijinx those crazy Cartwright boys got up to – Hop Sing could not have seen this one coming.

This year's attendees will attempt to break last summer's record – I did mention I'm not making this up – of 277 naked people in the swimming hole at the same time. It's call the "Skinny Dip Challenge." To keep this fair from taking an ugly turn and being renamed "Goose Fest," the hands of all wading nudists must be above the water at all times.

Listed as Canada's only "Nudie Music Festival" an exception is made for that crazy guy doing the drum solo. At the insistence of the festival's insurance agent, the drummer is allowed to wear shorts. Due to the lawsuits still pending from last summer's Nudestock, the "Canadian Bacon Fry Up" has been cancelled this year.

So get out there and enjoy it all. Summers have never been so hot or so strange.

Espanola Police Report

On June 10, 2013 at 6:53 p.m., the Espanola Police Service received a complaint of a suspicious vehicle in the area of Annette Street and Marquette Street, Espanola. The citizen caller was concerned, because the 1991 GMC pickup truck was stopped on the shoulder of the road for half an hour with 3 occupants just sitting inside.

Upon arrival, a member of the Espanola Police Service conducted a computer check on the attached Alberta licence plate, and discovered that the vehicle was reported stolen from the City of Greater Sudbury.

As a result, the three occupants were arrested for Possession of Property Obtained by Crime, but further investigation revealed that only 48-year old Raymonde Swain of Sudbury had knowledge that the vehicle was stolen, and as a result, she was charged with Possession of Property Obtained by Crime Under $5000.00, contrary to section 355 (b) of the Criminal Code of Canada. The accused will appear in Espanola Court on the July 2, 2013 to answer to her charge.

The other two occupants were released unconditionally.

On the 14 Jun-13 at 12:58 am, the Espanola Police Service received a 911 call from a resident of Hayward Street, Espanola, regarding a Home Invasion type Break and Enter that had just occurred at her residence.

Upon arrival, police discovered that 2 males wearing balaclavas forced entry to the residence, and demanded prescription medication that they believed the female victim had in her home. During the altercation, the 2 suspects assaulted the victim, but ultimately left empty handed. Following the incident, police located the two males, and another male who acted as the lookout, hiding out at a residence on Centre Street. Upon their arrest, police located the clothing and disguises worn by the suspects during the commission of the offence.

Charged are:

19-year old Nick Parri of Espanola, with:

- Break and Enter, Commit the Indictable offence of Robbery;
 - Break and Enter, with Intent to commit Theft;
 - Wear Disguise during the commission of an Indictable Offence;
 - Fail to Comply with OIC Undertaking.
- 25-year old Alex Szablowski of Espanola with:
- Break and Enter, Commit the Indictable offence of Robbery;
 - Break and Enter, with Intent to commit Theft;
 - Wear Disguise during the commission of an Indictable Offence;
 - Obstruct Peace Officer - Resist Arrest;
 - Forcible Confinement;
 - Assault.

18-year old Trevor Hanes of Espanola, with:

- Break and Enter, with Intent to commit Theft.

On the 12Jun13, a member of the Espanola Police Service, assisted by a member of the O.P.P. Community Drug Action Team, stopped a motor vehicle on Barber Street near Second Street, Espanola, and having grounds to believe that the male and female in the vehicle were in possession of a controlled substance, arrested the occupants and searched the occupants and vehicle incident to arrest.

As a result of the search, 28-year old Adam White, and 21-year old Susan Cronkite of Espanola were found to be in possession of 8 Oxycodone pills valued at $40.00; neither person had a medical prescription to legally possess the substance.

Based on the findings, the two were charged with one count each of Possession of a Controlled Substance, contrary to section 4 (1) of the Controlled Drugs and Substances Act. Further, the driver Adam White was charged with additional Provincial Offences of Failing to Wear a Seatbelt, and Drive Motor Vehicle with Open Container of Liquor, and the passenger Susan Cronkite was charged with Failing to Wear a Seat Belt, and Having Open Alcohol other than Licenced Premise, Residence or Private Place.

The accused are to appear in Espanola Court on the 02Jul13 to answer to their charges.

On the 08Jun13 at 2:24 pm, the Espanola Police Service received a complaint from a concerned citizen of a possible impaired driver in the area of Mead Street, Espanola. The Police Service immediately dispatched an officer to the area; however, the driver, and described motor vehicle could not be located.

At 3:50 pm, the same officer observed the vehicle from the earlier complaint traveling on Second Street, and stopped the driver to check his sobriety. While speaking to the driver, the officer detected the odour of an alcoholic beverage, and an Approved Roadside Screening Device was utilized, producing a "Fail" reading by the driver.

The 61-year old driver was arrested for Operation with Over 80 mgs of Alcohol, and transported to the Espanola Police Service, where the Approved Instrument obtained readings of 120 mgs and 103 mgs.

As a result, Donald Guay of Espanola was charged with Operation over 80 mgs of alcohol, contrary to section 253 (1)(b) of the Criminal Code of Canada. Further, the accused lost his privilege to operate a motor vehicle in the Province of Ontario for a period of 90-days, and his vehicle was impounded for 7-days.

The accused will appear in Espanola Court on the 03Sep13 to answer to his charge.

On the 20Jun13, the Espanola Police Service received a complaint from a resident on Albert Street in Espanola, reporting that unknown person(s) removed four BF Goodrich size P265/75/16 Mud Terrain Tires on Metal Alloy rims from the box of his pickup truck overnight. The tires, valued at $2000.00, were secured in the truck box with a cable and padlock.

Police are asking that if anyone saw suspicious activity in the area during the early morning hours of the 20Jun13, or if you have any information as to the whereabouts of the tires, or person(s) responsible, to call the Espanola Police Service at (705) 869-3251 or anonymously through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-461-4899.

Anyone with information on any of these crimes call Espanola Police Service at (705) 869-3251 or Sudbury Rainbow Crime Stoppers locally at (705) 222-TIPS (8477) or toll free at 1-800-222-TIPS.

Bad News For Bees Is Bad News For Us All

Carol Hughes, MP
Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing

A few years back I wrote about the challenges for bees (especially honey bees) as colony collapse disorder was a growing concern and phenomenon. Recent news items show the problems aren't reversing but are only getting worse. This is significantly bad news and the implications could be felt in many ways including on your plate.

Bee populations have been in decline for many years. Originally it was thought that a number of stress factors were to blame. Increasingly we are hearing about one class of pesticides called neonicotinoids as the likely culprit pushing global bee populations to the brink.

Within weeks, two mass death events have highlighted the pressing need to address this situation. In June, tens of thousands of wild bumblebees were found dead in an Oregon parking lot after nearby trees were sprayed with a neonicotinoid pesticide meant to combat aphids. In early July, a Southern Ontario bee keeper announced he lost more than 37 million bees after the corn fields that surround his farm were planted with neonicotinoid treated seeds. He claims the dust from the planting killed his bees in short order.

Honeybees are incredible creatures that live in organized society and communicate by dancing (waggle dance). A honey bee can travel as much as 7 kilometres to find flowers and then communicate the information for other bees to find them with this dance. Studies show there is a loss of communication and memory among honey bees exposed to neonicotinoid pesticides. Some countries such as the UK and countries of European Union have banned their use.

This is not the case in North America where protection is offered to agricultural and chemical companies while detractors of their products have to provide absolute and irrefutable proof of harm before governments move to ensure environmental or consumer safety. In these instances the idea of the precautionary principle has been flipped on its head to protect monetary interests from the well-being of society.

Something is rotten here and while we wait for action we are placed precariously on the verge of a major disaster – which is what a world without bees would amount to. Every third bite on your plate is directly linked to honey bees. Without wild bees our plant diversity would shrink and take the species that depend on them along as well.

The potential outcome of this type of disaster actually threatens society in ways that are not even being discussed by our government. Worse, our scientists are muzzled by the current 'control the message' government so we can't be sure we are receiving the opinion of the specialists we hire to do public research on the safety and suitability of pesticides.

There are other potential reasons for colony collapse which will be leaned on by companies with a monetary interest in doing nothing. They have strong lobbying presences and wine and dine the political support they need to maintain status quo. An unfortunate part of that status quo is the acceptance of the widespread decline in bees along with other pollinators and the negative consequences that flows from that. Surely it is time for the government to take this issue seriously.

Kids Korner

Glow Stick Lightning Bug

- One 20 ounce green plastic soda bottle, empty and cleaned out (label removed)
- One glow stick
- Three 12 inch pipe cleaners in green or black, for the legs
- One 12 inch pipe cleaner in gold, silver, or black (for the antennae)
- Two yellow pony beads (for the eyes)
- Construction paper or card stock (for thorax and wings)
- Glue
- Scissors
- Black paint
- Clear tape

Clean out a green 20 ounce pop bottle. Remove the label by soaking it in warm water. Wash well and allow it to dry completely. Twist three 12 inch green or black pipe cleaners around the middle of the bottle. Give them a twist to secure, and then bend them to look like legs. Cut a rectangle of construction paper or card stock to wrap around the pop bottle. Don't have it wrap completely. Cut the rectangle slightly smaller so it ends where the legs show. Glue this paper on to the body to secure. Fold another piece of construction paper or card stock in half. Cut a wing-like shape, using the fold to create mirror images of the wings. Glue these on top of the firefly's body. Paint the bottle cap black and allow it to dry. Screw the cap on the firefly. Glue two yellow pony beads to the sides of it, to be the lightning bug's eyes. Then, wrap a 12 inch gold pipe cleaner around the neck of the bottle, twist to secure, and curl the ends to be the lightning bug's antennae. Crack to activate a glow stick and place it inside. You can let it be loose, or use a bit of clear tape to secure the top end of the glow stick near the mouth of the bottle.

In The Loop

The Regular Council meeting for July was again very brief (approx. 11 min.).

Included in the agenda package was the June 2013 Financial Report. The Clerk Treasurer/Administrator assured Council that tracking of the 2013 budget numbers showed that the town is on target.

Council accepted a proposal from J.L. Richards to complete a Community Improvement/Revitalization Plan for Espanola. The cost is estimated to be $32,956. After federal and provincial grants are factored in the portion the Town has to cover will be $4950. When this process eventually gets underway, there will undoubtedly be public consultation meetings and we encourage everyone to take part. During final comments Mayor Lehoux explained that the District of Sudbury Social Assistance Board (DSSAB) fund had a surplus of approx. $212,000 for 2012. The DSSAB board decided that this money should be returned to the contributing communities. Espanola's share will see a return of around $30,000.

In closing, Espanola's volunteer fire fighters deserve a sincere thank you for all the work that they put into organizing the July 1st fireworks display. It was truly a spectacular event and an awesome way to close out Canada Day 2013!

We hope you are enjoying this warm summer weather. The ECG executive continues to plan for our Town Hall in September. If you have any questions or concerns, we can be reached at espanolacitizensgroup@hotmail.ca or by phone at 705 869 1609.
