Students Run For Cancer

"I will be ready to achieve something that for me was once only a distant dream reserved for the world of miracles - to run across Canada to raise money for the fight against cancer. We need your help. The people in cancer clinics all over the world need people who believe in miracles." - Terry Fox

By Chloe Kneer - The annual Terry Fox Run was started in 1981 as a grassroots non-competitive charity event to raise funds for cancer research. It is held internationally and via the Terry Fox Foundation has raised upwards of $600 million. Unlike most charitable events, the Terry Fox Run has no corporate sponsorship. This is in accordance with Terry Fox's original wishes. During his Marathon of Hope, Fox turned down every endorsement he was offered, as he felt it would detract from his goal of creating public awareness. Instead, the traditional run has expanded to include events such as National School Run Day. The school runs typically take

Strange ... I Mean Really Strange Men I Have Known

When I say I have 'known' strange men I do not mean that in the normal sense or even the Biblical sense. When I say I have 'known' these men, I mean I wrote about them and then I promptly backed over my computer in the driveway, changed my name and moved twice.

First there was Miguel Gonzales in California who was convicted of assaulting his girlfriend and sentenced to undergo anger-management training. During one of his first sessions, Miguel was beaten to death by his counselor. Seriously, when you provoke your anger-management counselor to the point where he strangles you to death with his bare hands, you got a real attitude.

In an early incident of street violence in Toronto, a prominent member of an Asian gang was shot and killed. The man's name was Chanh Thong Vo, but according to the Globe and Mail, "he was better known on the streets of Chinatown as 'Tommy' or 'No Wang Vo' because several years earlier he had accidentally shot off part of his wedding tackle with the .45-calibre handgun that he kept stuffed down the front of his baggy blue jeans." Ah, if it's a choice, I'll take "Tommy" any day. And to avoid a truckful of really bad puns, I think we're all relieved this guy's name wasn't Richard.

In Brunswick, Georgia, detectives picked up a suspect in a purse snatching minutes after it happened and returned him to the scene of the crime, informing him he was going to have a face-to-face identification with the victim. They hauled him out of the cruiser and positioned him directly in front of the woman. There was a pause and then the suspect said, "Yup, that's the woman I robbed, all right." Okay, maybe he's just new at this.

Over 400 hygiene experts gathered in Hong Kong for four days a few years back to discuss "The Culture of the Toilet." Said Sachiko Azai of the Japan Toilet Association, "We have to make toilets something we can love." Well, when it comes to loving toilets, we here in Canada take pride in the thousands and thousands of university students who hug the porcelain almost every weekend. When a woman at Memorial University in St. John's was facing nudity charges after being discovered naked with a man in the library study room, school spokesman Peter Morris said "I'll be frank: it does have its humorous elements, doesn't it?" Actually, Peter those elements would be a lot more humorous if it was two defensive linemen from the football team caught naked in the study and they asked you to be Frank.

Added Morris, "We have no desire for people to be nude in the library." No, but it would sure get those freshmen cracking the books on the first day of school.

A favourite quote of the time came from

Albert Kraus of Chicago while he attended the – I'm absolutely not making this up – Living in Leather IX convention in Toronto with 450 other aficionados of sadomasochism. Said Kraus "Sadomasochism is practiced with the heart and the mind." Good grief. Whatever happened to whips and sticks and riding crops?

Added Kraus "Today we are practicing safe sadomasochism." Safe sadomasochism? Believe me, I'm no expert in the field, but if you do it right, isn't somebody supposed to get hurt?

But the three guys I most wanted to have beer with were Americans Joseph VanWart, Robert White and Johnny O'Brien.

Some time ago, while travelling west out of New York, these three young men stopped and picked up a dog, later identified as Buddy. Buddy was digging through the trash beside a highway near Central Islip, New York and to keep the dog from being hit, the guys loaded him into their car.

Pleased with their new friendship, the four of them proceeded to travel through New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas and finally to their home town of Fort Collins, Colorado. I can just imagine the fun – wolfing down burgers, all cuddled up and snoring in the back seat, taking a leak beside the road – all the things guys like to do on a road trips.

Then came the words which once inspired me to write a book entitled Guys – Not Real Bright And Damn Proud Of It! "That's when we discovered," said one of the young men from Fort Collins, who wished to remain anonymous, "that Buddy had tags." That's right; Buddy was carrying identification, which showed he hails from Central Islip, New York, not too far from the heap of garbage he was rooting through.

Look, nobody said we were the smarter of the sexes, but there's never been any doubt as to who has more fun. To these three heroes (at least in the eyes of a smelly mutt who loves to go for long car rides), I say this: "I love you, Man! But no way, Johnny, you can't have Buddy."

Buddy, by the way, has since returned to Central Islip, New York, safe albeit somewhat confused. He no longer accepts rides from strangers, but he's not exactly sure why. How about we designate 2014 The Year Of The Guy? Mission statement: "Men – we have the right to remain stupid, behave badly, own a rubber chicken and a whoopee cushion and operate them at the same time."

Warning: Women, do not attempt to match these extraordinary achievements of the stronger sex. You are neither physically nor psychologically equipped for such exploits, plus you could hurt yourself giggling.

Espanola's Winkel's Your Independent Grocer Wins Canadian Independent Grocer Of The Year Award

The 51st Annual Canadian Independent Grocer of the Year Awards Ceremony was held Monday, October 1 in Toronto, in front of a gala audience of over 500 leading grocers, suppliers, and distributors at Grocery Innovations Canada 2013, Canada's premier grocery conference and trade show. Each year, the Canadian Federation of Independent Grocers (CFIG) Awards Program recognizes the success of outstanding independent retailers and offers insights into innovations that are changing and enhancing the way retailers compete.

This year, CFIG is proud to announce that Frank and Lisa Winkel and Kim Gardiner of Winkel's Your Independent Grocer in Espanola, ON were awarded the Saskatchewan/Manitoba/Northern Ontario Regional Award for Top Independent Grocer of the Year - Large Surface Category. The Canadian Independent Grocer of the Year is the most prestigious award CFIG can bestow. ## In The Loop

This article will not contain council information since the corporate meeting of October 1st was cancelled. Therefore, I will take this opportunity to further explain the reason for writing the In The Loop column. The Espanola Citizen Group executive wants to keep not only our members, but also interested residents informed on the decisions made in council chambers.

However, we believe that leadership must welcome transparency and accountability as a democratic right....one that should always be available to the public it serves. We believe that scrutiny is not frivolous or vexatious.

To quote concerned Greater Sudbury resident Chris Nerpin, "True leaders invite scrutiny. Honest leaders do not fear criticism; they encourage it.

True leaders also listen to others, including outraged citizens and professional opinions, such as audit recommendations, and even non-favourable oversight. True leaders also embrace responsibility and elicit cooperation. They find compromise with opposition, building common ground and facilitating an inclusive vision; building successes on that."

As a not-for-profit organization, we will continue to provide facts to keep you informed and to attempt to squash rumours.

Our hope is that what you read gives you a fuller understanding of the Town's financial status. This will enable you to encourage Espanola's leaders to make wise decisions on your behalf.

Students Run For Cancer

place a week or so into the school year, however, students at A.B. Ellis Public School in Espanola spent that time fund-raising and held their run last Thursday, October 3. Students canvassed for donations, and also set up a donation station at the schoolyard fence that runs along Hwy 6 so that members of the community could drop by to contribute.

The Terry Fox Foundation donates 84 cents of every dollar to cancer research and in 2007 created the Terry Fox Research Institute in order to develop better cancer treatments for patients. A.B. Ellis students and staff have raised more than $250,000 in support of cancer research over the past 16 years. "We are not ready to stop," says Principal Lynn MacDonell, confirming that their commitment is long-term. Students and staff thank all of those who donated and supported this year's run.

Amplify Your Holiday Décor With Pumped Up Pumpkins

(NC) As the days become shorter and the temperature dips lower, it's time to warm up home décor for the holidays. Incorporate the look and feel of the season with beautiful harvest hues and easy, cost-effective do-it-yourself projects.

Indoor Autumn Accents: Fall is the perfect time to create a cozy indoor environment using the warm elements of the season. As a focal point in the living room, the mantel is a great place to start. You can easily create a beautiful fall vignette that will last through Halloween and Thanksgiving with as little as a few artificial pumpkins and spray paint.

Bring a touch of nature into your home by spraying the pumpkins with Krylon's Natural Stone Textured Finish, which is available in eight designer colours for an elegant, professional-looking textured appearance. Or, you can also glam up your masterpiece by incorporating gold and silver hues using Krylon's Dual Paint + Primer Metallic Finish. Don't have a mantel? Don't worry – these pumpkins also make for a fabulous tabletop centrepiece. To finalize the look, incorporate scented candles in fall staples like apple, cinnamon and pumpkin spice to make the room more warm and inviting.

Create a Warm Welcome: Once you've made the indoor décor inviting, it's time to create a festive front entrance. Start by adorning your door with a festive and simple autumn wreath. You can easily create your own with dried leaves from the yard or silk leaves from a craft store. Simply string each leaf onto a wire wreath and hang on the door.

Outdoor décor is also the perfect opportunity to use pumpkins of all shapes and sizes. A totem pole of pumpkins can add a fun touch to your front porch. After you've gathered pumpkins in different sizes, add variety by spray painting each a different colour. Shades of yellow, gold or white will keep your display playful, yet sophisticated. Utilize an unused planter as a base to rest the largest pumpkin, then secure each smaller pumpkin atop one another with wooden skewers. For an extra touch, stencil the pumpkins with house numbers to greet your guests.

Fresh Fall Foliage: Nothing says fall harvest like fresh seasonal flowers. Arrangements of beautiful sunflowers, mums and daisies make great options. For an eye-catching display, pumpkins and gourds can easily be transformed into unique vases. Simply cut a hole big enough to accommodate a couple of florist tubes and insert your favourite fall flowers.

With a few simple ideas and a little creativity, you can set the tone for the fall season and make your home a warm and inviting environment you'll enjoy throughout the holidays. For more information on Krylon products or projects, visit www.krylon.ca

Recipe

Thanksgiving is this coming weekend and I think it's nice to have a leafy salad on the table to balance out the meal. This salad contains cranberries in keeping with the Thanksgiving theme. It's sweet, crunchy, easy to prepare ahead (just add the dressing before serving) and delicious.

Cranberry Spinach Salad

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 3/4 cup almonds, blanched and slivered
- 1 pound spinach, rinsed and torn into bite-size pieces
- 1 cup dried cranberries (Craisins)
- 2 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds
- 1 tablespoon poppy seeds
- 1/4 – 1/2 cup white sugar (depending on desired sweetness)
- 2 teaspoons minced red onion
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 cup white wine vinegar
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 1/2 cup vegetable or olive oil

In a small skillet, melt butter over medium heat. Cook and stir almonds in butter until lightly toasted. Remove from heat, and let cool. In a large bowl, combine the spinach with the toasted almonds and cranberries. In a medium bowl, whisk together the sesame seeds, poppy seeds, sugar, onion, paprika, white wine vinegar, cider vinegar, and oil. Toss with spinach just before serving.

Espanola Police Report

Assault/Breach - On September 20 at 12:27 a.m., the Espanola Police Service received a call regarding an intoxicated male lying on the grass near Tudhope Street and Whitney Street, Espanola.

Upon police arrival, they discovered a 17-year-old intoxicated male seated on the ground, distraught over a fight he'd had with his girlfriend. A police check revealed that the male was bound by an Undertaking with conditions to abstain from the consumption of alcohol, and as a result, he was arrested for breaching his Undertaking, and transported to the Espanola Police Service for processing.

While the male was in custody, his girlfriend attended the police service to make a complaint that he punched her in the face during the earlier argument, and she believed that her nose was broken. Also during the argument, which occurred in the Mead Boulevard, and John Street area, the male had pulled a street sign out of the ground.

As a result, the accused, whose name cannot be released due to the provisions of the Youth Criminal Justice Act, was charged with Assault Causing Bodily Harm, contrary to Section 267 (b) of the Criminal Code; Mischief Under $5000.00, contrary to Section 430 (4) of the Criminal Code; and Breach of Undertaking, contrary to Section 145 (5.1) of the Criminal Code. He appeared in Bail Court on the 21Sep13 to answer to his charges.

Assault - On September 17 at 1:16 p.m., the Espanola Police Service received a call from the Espanola High School, regarding an assault involving two students.

Upon arrival, police learned that a 17-year-old female student was walking down a hallway in the school, when another 17-year-old female student confronted her over a relationship she was having with a boy. The confrontational student then pushed the other student into nearby lockers and struck her several times in the face, causing 2 small contusions on her forehead.

Police investigated the incident, and determined that there were reasonable grounds to believe that this was a non-consensual, unprovoked assault, and as a result, the student was arrested.

As a result of the complaint, the 17-year-old accused, whose name cannot be released due to the provisions of the Youth Criminal Justice Act, was charged with one count of Assault, contrary to Section 266 of the Criminal Code. She was released on a Promise to Appear in Youth Court on October 22 to answer to her charges.

Espanola Rivermen Junior A Hockey Club Gets Huge Welcome From Home Crowd

The Espanola Rivermen Junior A hockey team played their home opener to a jam-packed crowd at the Espanola Regional Recreation Complex on Friday, September 27. The Rivermen edged out the Sudbury Nickel Barons 5-4 in the highly anticipated match-up on home ice. They beat the Abitibi Eskimos Sunday, September 29 6-5. Last week, forward Brennen Dubchak was once again named one of the NOJHL's "3 Stars" for the week. It's the second time Dubchak has earned the honour, this time by scoring the eventual game-winning goal in the home opener. At press time, Dubchak was second overall in NOJHL scoring. See the Rivermen play at home again this Friday at 7:30 p.m. or Saturday at 7:00 p.m.

After playing to a packed house on home opening weekend, Espanola Rivermen tickets will now go on sale in advance for all home games. If you wish to purchase tickets, you may do so at the Espanola Complex the week prior to each home game. Seating is limited and sold out for the Rivermen's first 2 home games. Director of Operations Tim Clayden says,

"It is a nice problem to have. We are trying our best to make every effort to ensure our area junior hockey fans have the first opportunity to secure their seats for our home games and we encourage our fans to please come by and pick up your tickets early in the week in order to secure your seat during home games."
