The sanctioned United Hockey Union, under the umbrella of the Amateur Athletic Union, has officially approved the new Canadian International Hockey League as a member.

The UHU executive gave its unanimous endorsement to the CIHL and its founder, Espanola Rivermen owner, Tim Clayden at a meeting last week in Detroit.

The CIHL will begin play effective the upcoming 2014-2015 season.

Ron White, who serves as president of the UHU, national junior hockey director for the AAU and commissioner of the Western States Hockey League, issued the following statement in accepting the CIHL as a member.

"After months of anticipation and planning, the United Hockey Union, which is the junior hockey council affiliated with the Amateur Athletic Union, has as the first order of business at its 2014 annual

The "Selfie" - The Answer To World Peace?

A coup or more accurately a coup d'etat (French for "we are très pissed off!") is a sudden and usually violent overthrow of a country's existing government by forces within the state itself.

Coups are rarely 'bloodless.' The 1973 Chilean coup d'etat in which General Augusto Pinochet overthrew President Salvador Allende and set up a 17-year dictatorship was described as "political genocide where thousands of leftist disappeared." At the outset of Argentina's 1955 uprising to depose Juan Peron, the military bombed Buenos Aires' main square killing thousands of civilians.

So the purpose behind a traditional violent military coup is to first secure control of the country and in doing so show its citizens that you mean business. Protesters must know that they could be next.

Last week the military in the country of Thailand staged a military coup d'etat. They mounted a massive show of force with heavily-armed troops in jeeps and tanks swarming the capital of Bangkok as loud speakers declared the establishment of martial law. They were loaded for bear, determined to bury democracy and prepared to kill their own people in order to bring down the government. They were not however prepared for the "selfie."

My morning paper carried five photographs taken on the streets of Bangkok just as Thailand's army was setting up barricades and positioning their gun-mounted vehicles in front of key government and media buildings. The centerpiece photo shows two well-dressed women in front of a jeep with three army officers wielding automatic weapons. The woman on the left is smiling. The woman on the right is holding her smartphone at arm's length in front of her. They are taking a "selfie" of themselves using the military coup as a backdrop. Instead of fleeing for their lives or racing home to warn their families of an impending civil war, these two women in summer dresses are posing in front of three soldiers who look terminally confused by their sudden celebrity status.

The other photos show two teenage girls with their arms around a young and embarrassed marine, a woman examining her screen to see if a second "selfie" is necessary, yet three more women taking pictures of themselves with automatic weapons and a goofy looking guy who has borrowed a helmet and is sitting behind the wheel of soldier's jeep. The young man is smiling with both hands on the wheel like he's just crossed the finish line first at the Soapbox Derby.

Thitinan Pongsudhirak, an authority on Thai politics is quoted in the article as saying: "It's technically martial law but it doesn't feel like it." He's right. The coup looked a lot like a "Take Your Family To Work Day" at Royal Thai Army Headquarters.

As a bit of a history buff and someone who never ceases to be amazed by how history keeps repeating itself in the form of colossal blunders, I wanted to scream.

"Hey! Those guys in uniform you're cuddling up next to, they're here to kill your freedom and imprison your brothers and put you under house arrest!"

"No, don't ask that marine to remove his sunglasses because you're getting a reflection on your camera, tell him to drop his weapon in the name of democracy!"

"Don't put your arm around that soldier like you're old friends. He's the enemy. Get behind him, grab the chain that holds his dog tags and garrote him while you have the chance!"

"Don't just pretend to drive that jeep - run the bastards over with it and leave the scene with their weapons."

"Pretty soon your food will be rationed, your father will disappear and you'll be travelling through manhole covers to attend secret meetings."

On the other hand, this could be a good thing. I mean if the shameless, self-importance of our younger generations can blunt the force of a military coup it might also do away with war. Front line soldiers cannot be firing off weapons and tossing grenades while they're waving for the camera and offering to take photos of tourists sitting in their military vehicles. Leaders once believed that the ungodly consequences of nuclear weapons might be the answer to world peace. Now it looks like it's social media. Finally a real practical purpose has evolved from all that inane nothingness of texting and twittering and exchanging billions of photos nobody cares about.

Winston Churchill once began a speech against martial law by saying: "You see these dictators on their pedestals surrounded by the bayonets of their soldiers and the truncheons of their police ..." Today he would have to add: "and the 'selfies' of the oppressed and the smiling photos of their captives posted on Facebook and getting autographs from autocrats and sharing ice cream cones with girls in silk dresses." Has it really come to this? So powerful is the fame game that it can bring a halt to the war game. Is the Kardashian factor so strong in today's society that narcissism could really end fascism?!? The meek might very well inherit the earth as long as they keep snapping "selfies" and smiling for the camera as democracy disappears into thin air.

"Younger Than Spring Time": Celebrating Those Age 90+

Photo: Don Allen serenaded his wife of sixty-two years, Daphne, by singing "You Are My Sunshine" at the recent party held at Queensway Place in Espanola to honour those 90 years of age or more. The number became a crowd sing-a-long. Daphne was one of several women who dressed in 1920's inspired attire.

Photos: (Left) Rita and Frank Beer, who are also part of the Espanola Seniors Choir, performed their version of "Bicycle Built For Two."

(Below) Randy Kneer was the youngest invited guest. He played piano and was reminded that he only had seventy-nine more years to be an "official" guest at the party for 90+ aged seniors.

In The Loop

The Asset Management Plan was introduced to Council at the May 27th meeting by the Clerk Treasurer/Administrator. This Plan will be posted on the Town website May 31st. It is necessary to have such a plan in order to obtain provincial infrastructure funds.

The plan lists Espanola's worth in terms of roads, bridges, water, wastewater and buildings. It then gives estimates of the useful lifespan for each asset before repairs and/or replacements are required. It must be updated on a yearly basis. Phase 2 will be developed to also include Espanola's vehicles and equipment.

Council was informed that 19.55% of the Town's assets are considered excellent and 40.47% good. However, 11% are at a critical stage, 20% poor and 8% fair. It is estimated that it will cost a minimum of $3,364,901 per year to address these issues. Money for this will come from taxation, reserves, grants and debt financing.

The offer for expanding Espanola Police Services to cover Nairn-Hyman and Baldwin Townships has been put on hold. Council was told Baldwin has decided to wait for the new OPP proposal before making any decisions. Therefore at this point in time Espanola will not be going ahead with the hiring and training of new recruits.

Please plan to join the Espanola Citizen Group as we partner with the Around&About for an All Candidates Night, Tuesday, September 30 at the Legion in Espanola. This will be your chance to get to know municipal candidates' platforms before you vote. The evening will encompass a variety of topics with questions and answers. Start time is 7:00 p.m. We hope to see you there!

Espanola Rivermen Officially Moving to Newly Sanctioned CIHL

general meeting, approved the membership of the Canadian International Hockey League. We are extremely excited about our new partner and the excitement that it will bring to the UHU," stated White.

Clayden will be moving the Rivermen to the new CIHL from the Northern Ontario Jr. Hockey League.

As a first-year entry in 2013-2014, Espanola finished third in the standings of the eight-team NOJHL and led the league in attendance with a per-game average of 546, regular-season and playoffs included.

A determined Clayden, who has worked tirelessly over the past three months to get the CIHL started after announcing that he and his Espanola team were leaving the NOJHL, had plenty to say about moving forward under the UHU-AAU banner.

"We are incredibly honoured and humbled that our American neighbours and friends in junior hockey of the UHU have accepted the CIHL as an equal partner under the sanctioned AAU. This creates tremendous excitement and opportunity for not only our junior hockey fans, sponsors and CIHL franchise operators but most importantly, provides options to all junior hockey players between the ages of 15-20 in Northern Ontario and beyond. Our junior hockey players from Northern Ontario will now be able to compete with and against student-athletes from all over, be it Canada, the United States and Europe. Together with the UHU, we have a chance of a lifetime here to do something really special in the game of junior hockey.

The UHU is now made up of four junior leagues -- the WSHL, NSHL, MWJHL and the CIHL.

Clayden, in learning of the CIHL's official acceptance into the UHU, said he will begin to announce his league's teams "in the days and weeks ahead. This is now a reality and there are documents and agreements to sign."

Meanwhile, MWJHL commissioner Gardiner, in welcoming the arrival of the CIHL as the newest member of the UHU, said, "We welcome the challenge to cross borders to compete with our Canadian neighbours. This is a great day for junior hockey."

The MWJHL and CIHL are expected to begin the 2014-2015 season with a joint Showcase Tournament to be held in Traverse City, Michigan. Of note, the UHU has changed its import rule and will now classify all Canadian and American players as North Americans or non-imports.

All teams in all four UHU leagues -- WSHL, NSHL, MWJHL and the CIHL -- can have unlimited non-imports as well as up to 10 imports and two grand-fathered imports from the prior season.

(July 20, 1951 – June 3, 2013)

The day that you left us
I couldn't believe my eyes
Laying there beside you
All I could do was cry

I hoped and wished you would recover
But the good lord had different plans
To take you beyond those pearly gates
To find the fields of rolling clover

No more pain
No more appointments
God I wish you were here
So I could see that mischievous smile
And to hear your infectious laugh again

You're deep inside our hearts
Always remembered, never forgotten
Love your wife and daughters.

Here's another one of my daughter's healthy recipes that she has made three times already in the last week. These are not only healthy, but moist and delicious and an easy 'grab and go' breakfast if you don't have time to make something. I personally think the added chocolate chips are what make these muffins so good but you can also make them with chopped apples and cinnamon or walnuts as well.

Breakfast Banana Oatmeal Muffins

- 2.5 cups old fashioned oats
- 1 cup plain greek yogurt
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup honey
- 2 tsp baking powder
- 1 tsp baking soda
- 2 Tbsp ground flax seed
- 1 tsp vanilla
- 2 ripe bananas
- 3/4 cup chocolate chips (optional)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Spray tin with non-stick cooking spray or line 12 muffin tins with silicone or foil liners. Place the oats in the food processor and pulse for about 10 seconds. Add remaining ingredients to the food processor. Process until everything is mixed together and oats are smooth. At this point in the process, I decided to actually separate my batter into two different bowls. I added dark chocolate chips to one and walnuts to the other. Basically, kid muffins and mommy muffins. Divide batter among cupcake liners, and bake for 18-20 minutes, or until toothpick comes out clean.

Seed Mosaics

- Shallow lid from a plastic container (margarine)
- White glue
- Seeds (larger ones work best like beans)
- Paintbrush
- Paint (liquid tempera)

Give each child a shallow lid saved from a plastic container. Have them fill the lid with a big puddle of glue. Then tilt the lid back and forth a bit to spread the glue so it covers the entire bottom of the lid. Have them add the seeds to the lid in any pattern they desire. Paint over the top of the seeds in any colour they wish. Once they have completed painting the beans; set the mosaics aside to dry for about a week. When the mosaics are dry, peel them out of the lid. Make a hole in the top and use some yarn to hang them up.

New Canada Day Celebration For Espanola And Area

Canada Day in Espanola has typically seen Arts, Berries, and Jazz at the complex, however, this year a new idea has been brought forth, which will include more vendors, as well as raise money towards a new PET scanner to help detect cancers. Tarts, Tea, and Market is being organized by Lisa Gamelin and Teal Toes, the group she founded to raise awareness about ovarian cancer. Come join the fun at the Knights of Columbus Hall where there will be tarts, tea, and a variety of local vendors (tables are still available if you are interested in renting one for $25). Admission will be $5 at the door with a start time of 10:00 a.m.

Gamelin is excited to head up the new July 1st event, which is a precursor to the 2nd annual Ovarian Cancer Awareness Walk in September. "Last year's walk raised $4000 in just two weeks, so this year we have set a goal of $10,000. The money raised from the Tarts, Tea, and Market will give us a good head start towards that goal when the walk happens on September 7." She goes on to explain, "All the money is for a new PET scanner, which is not used exclusively to diagnose ovarian cancer; it is helpful for all kinds of cancer."

Wednesday, June 4 is Tim Hortons Camp Day! Camp Day is the one day each year when every penny from coffee sales at Tim Hortons stores across Canada and the United States will be donated to the Tim Horton Children's Foundation. On Camp Day, customers have the opportunity to buy a coffee and help send over 13,000 kids on the camping adventure of a lifetime. Campers aged nine to 12 years attend a ten day summer camp session, or a seven day winter camp session, at one of the Foundation's six camps. All children who attend camp are selected by Tim Hortons store owners who work closely with local youth organizations and schools to identify kids who would most benefit from an experience at camp.

"The outpouring of support that we receive from loyal Tim Hortons customers is what makes Camp Day an overwhelming success each year," says Dave Newnham Vice President, Tim Horton Children's Foundation. "Supporting Camp Day gives economically disadvantaged kids the opportunity to experience a camping adventure that will inspire them for years to come."

The Around&About will be serving coffee at the McKerrow location from 10:00 a.m. - noon. We hope to see you there.
