Sisters Helping Sisters: The Shoebox Project

Photo: Co-coordinator of the project, Donna MacDonald, drops her mother Yvonne Eadie's shoebox off at the Espanola Public Library. Shoeboxes can be donated through the end of this month.

By Chloe Kneer - Every woman enjoys little luxuries in her life. Soaps, perfume, make up, a gift certificate for pampering or a fun day out go a long way in making a woman feel special. This Christmas you can help women and girls living in shelters by donating to The Shoebox Project. The Shoebox Project was founded in 2011 by a group of sisters whose mission is to collect and distribute gifts packaged in shoeboxes to women in shelters across Canada. Locally, a couple of women are spearheading the campaign to broaden its base. Rosalind Russell, Moose FM radio morning host, and Donna MacDonald,

As You Read This ... Read? Visit Coles "The Book People."

If you listen to the radio broadcast of any professional sports game these days, you will be amazed at the proliferation of drop-in ads. If the play-by-play announcer mentions the word "tackle," he'll quite likely follow with "And don't forget it's bass season. Get everything you need at Peter's Tackle & Bait on Second Drive ..."

Or, "Oh! Wow! What a pass! Pass? Gas? Just a reminder that with Beano there will BE NO gas."

I happen to be driving in the States a couple of Sundays back listening to the Buffalo Bill's game when the play-by-play man said: "That could be a serious injury to running back Fred Jackson ... this injury report brought to you by Celino & Barnes, Buffalo's best personal injury lawyers."

Yeah the irony of it. Poor Fred's calling for a stretcher and the announcer's busy shilling for a company that chases ambulances!

"Wow! What a hit! Hit in a car? Call William Mattar."

Almost every segment of professional sports is now covered by sponsorship, from the coin toss to the postgame wrap-up. The NFL Super Bowl coin toss is sponsored by Papa John's Pizza and the postgame wrap-up is almost always sponsored by ... wait for ... Reynolds Wrap.

There was a time when you could turn down the dial to avoid the commercials but not anymore. These quickie ads are now way faster than your fingers.

"That's the fifteenth penalty of the game. Remember one 15-minute call to Geico can save you 15 percent on car insurance."

By embedding the ads in the action of the game, play-by-play announcers have become quick-thinking snake oil salesman. "Phelps painted the corner with that pitch," says the New York Yankees announcer. "And painting the corners is sponsored by CertaPro Painters. Because painting is personal." Unfortunately, it's now official. There are now more drop-in ads in most professional sports games than dropped balls.

"Oh no! He dropped the ball! Don't forget to drop into the Belmont Hotel after the game where 'The Chicken Wing Is King'."

The segues from action to ad are shameless. "Wow! Henderson caught stealing second again. And don't forget Bad Bob's Pace Security Alarms will keep the burglars from stealing from you."

Some are simply over the top. "What a totally awesome play by Ryan Coltry at short which reminds me of that totally awesome three-day-sale at the Ron's Sherston Convenience store featuring bologna at $2.97 a pound."

It's official - now more advertising pitches on radio broadcasts of baseball than ... pitches. "Wow! McRae grooved that pitch and it's outta here for a home run! And that folks, that's the First Financial first run of the game."

They're a cheap and annoying and ... Hey, wait a minute! Drop-in ads could work for this very column!

As you read this column, I hope you get at least a smile out of my take on drop-in ads interrupting the play-by-play of sports on the radio and ... "and don't hesitate to call Dr. Catherine Ventresca. She'll restore a bright white smile to those yellowing teeth in one visit and two cleanings!"

As I was saying, should you find even a modicum of humour in my ... "Oh sure, laugh now but you'll be really sorry if a tree falls on your car and you're not insured with Reuter & Reilly. Reuter & Reilly Insurance helps save your money with a smile."

I mean humour is very subjective and you can't always bank on ... "Meridian Credit Union - it's like a bank with real people where you're not just a customer, you're a member! Remember RSP season is just around the corner."

When I sit down to write a column like this, I try to weave a web of strange but true ... "Tired of walking in cobwebs every time you step outside? Contact Truly Nolen Pest Control. You call for them. They'll kill for you!"

A humour column cannot only make you smile or even chuckle out loud but ...

"Laughs? You want laughs? Shop at Frank's Home Hardware in Port Colborne where the owner is actually a stand-up comedian."

What I'm trying to say is ... "Trying to make a good impression. Take your clothes to Lighthouse Cleaners. We'll starch your shirts and your shorts. We keep you on your toes!"

What I'm trying to ... "Giving you the shirt off their back? Port Cares reaches out to those who need it most."

What I'm ... "Need a ride. Don't steal that car. Call Port Taxi. We pride your ride."

W ... "Doubled over with back pain? Visit Dr. Vanessa at Mapleview Medical Clinic. She of the fine spine kind."

Okay. I'm done. If you promise to contact one of these sponsors, I'll promise never to do this again. Honest. "You want honesty ... Rick at R&J Mechanical Services will fix your car at an honest price. Free estimates and dog friendly."

"Dogs and cats? We've got your next one at the Welland Humane Society where a true pet lover is one sick puppy!"

Espanola Police Report

On November 12, 2014, a member of the Espanola Police Service observed a male he knew to be a suspended driver, operating a motor vehicle on Centre Street. The officer stopped the driver, and after confirming that his licence was still suspended subject to the provisions of the Family Responsibility Act, the officer administered a Roadside Screening Device, as the male had also been drinking; an "Alert" was registered, resulting in a 3-day licence suspension, and a 7 day vehicle impoundment.

Due to the cold temperature, the male asked the officer for a ride home, but first consented to a search for officer safety reasons prior to entering the police vehicle. During the pat-down search, the officer discovered a metal tin, which contained 1 gram of marihuana.

As a result of the traffic stop, the 43 year old Espanola resident was charged with Driving Under Suspension contrary to section 53 of the Highway Traffic Act, and received a caution from the officer for possessing a controlled substance. He will appear in Espanola court on December 11, 2014, to answer to his charge.

On November 10, 2014 at 1:30 p.m., a contractor working on Adelaide Street in Espanola had just placed his tools into the back of his van, when he left the vehicle unattended for a 10 minute period while he spoke to the homeowner. He later discovered that during his 10 minute absence, someone removed his Kindy brand tool pouch from the van. The pouch contained approximately $1000.00 in plumbing related tools that included Rigid brand aluminum pipe wrenches and tube cutters; channel lock pliers, crescent wrenches and side cutters; a Mastercraft brand drill and Mastercraft adjustable wrenches; an UEI Multi-Meter; and Wiss brand snips.

At this time, there are no suspects in this theft, and police are asking that if anyone saw any suspicious activity in the Adelaide Street area during this time, or have any information as to the whereabouts of the items stolen, or person(s) responsible, to call the Espanola Police Service at (705) 869-3251 or anonymously through Crime Stoppers at 1-800-461-4899.

On October 26, 2014, the Espanola Police Service received a complaint that a teenage girl was sexually assaulted, while attending a party in Espanola the previous evening.

A police investigation into the complaint led to the arrest of a 19 year old male from McKerrow, who was charged with one count of Sexual Assault, contrary to section 271 of the Criminal Code. He will appear in Espanola Court on December 2, 2014, to answer to his charge.

On October 25, 2014 at 6:15 p.m., the Espanola Police Service responded to a complaint of four intoxicated youth walking on Secord St., in Espanola.

Upon arrival, police discovered that the young people had entered a dwelling on Secord St. and upon being invited inside the residence, they discovered that the young people were not intoxicated, but that one 18 year old male was consuming alcohol in breach of his youth probation order.

As a result, the 18 year old male from Espanola was arrested and charged with one count of Breach of Probation, contrary to section 137 of the Youth Criminal Justice Act. He is to appear in court on December 3, 2014.

Anyone with information on any of these crimes call Espanola Police Service at (705) 869-3251 or remain anonymous by calling Sudbury Rainbow Crime Stoppers locally at (705) 222-TIPS (8477) or toll free at 1-800-461-4899

The Children's Clothes Closet

child has outgrown to Calvary Baptist Church at 599 Barber Street, Espanola. The clothes will be sorted and once a month made available for other parents to pick up, and continue using. While there, parents may see what's available in

The ladies at Calvary Baptist Church in Espanola realize that younger children's clothes are usually outgrown rather than wearing out. Most clothing has lots of good wear still in them when the child outgrows them. What are parents' options? Kijiji, the used clothing drop boxes, buy, sell, trade sites, or the white trucks that come pick up used articles, which often are then sold to Value Village or a similar store.

The ladies have a new idea! They would like you to bring your slightly used clothes that you're their child's current size and take it home with them.

This will keep the clothes local for distribution instead of sending them out of town. The important aspect of the project is that the clothes are given away, not sold. And, even if you do not currently have anything to donate, you can still leave with what you need. The sizes they are offering newborn to 6X.

The next selection day will be in January, however, the ladies will accept donations by appointment by calling Sandra at 705-869-1859.

co-coordinator, have teamed up to spread the word about The Shoebox Project. "I saw the post for the project on Facebook, and I simply shared it. From sharing, I got a phone call to ask if I would like to be formally involved in our area," says MacDonald. "So, I accepted and Rosalind also got involved. I've secured the Espanola Public Library as a drop off spot for the shoeboxes that are donated." The Moose FM studios on Gray Street are another place where shoeboxes can be dropped.

Donations are simple: get a shoebox, or a box of similar size, decorate it for Christmas and fill it with gifts worth approximately $50. Suggested contents include: lipstick, mascara, hand lotions, chocolates, mitts, hats, scarves, movie passes, phone and gift cards. Write a new and unwrapped.

The donated shoeboxes will be distributed to local shelters for the women who rely on their services. Not only does the project raise awareness about homelessness, poverty, and abuse, but it also serves as a reminder to the recipients that the community cares for them. Last year about 10,000 women at 200 emergency and transitional shelters in twenty-six communities across Canada benefitted from The Shoebox Project.

Rosalind recently held an open house style birthday party at her home, where she encouraged listeners to drop in with their shoeboxes. "We collected quite a few, but we would like to hit our goal of fifty-seven shoeboxes, since I just turned fifty-seven years old," she says. If you wish to donate, the shoeboxes must be in by November 30.

The Spread The Net Challenge Is Back

By Aubrey Fowler, Espanola High School Special Correspondent – Espanola High School is raising money for Rick Mercer's Spread the Net Student Challenge to save kids. Spread the Net is a fundraiser for kids in Africa to protect them from malaria by sending them bed nets. The whole thing started in 2006 when Rick Mercer began the Spread the Net Student Challenge. This year's campaign started on October 12 and will be closing at the end of February.

Approximately one child dies every minute and 620,000 people die from Malaria every year, most are pregnant women and children under the age of five. Spread the Net has protected 7.2 million people. Malaria is a deadly disease that can be transferred by a species of mosquito called anopheles. The bed nets cost $10 and can protect two kids for up to three years and those nets are insecticide treated to ward off the mosquitos because they mainly bite at night. This year the nets are being sent to Zimbabwe in Africa.

The whole fundraiser is in support of Plan Canada Spread the Net Initiative. The top raisers end up getting Rick Mercer to visit their school. Espanola High School's goal is to raise $10,000 to help provide 1000 bed nets. Students are going door-to-door and are going out to community events gathering donations. They are also visiting the website PlanCanada.ca/studentchallenge and searching Espanola High School. Tristan Emiry was the person who made Espanola High School aware of Spread the Net and in 2010 Espanola High School won. This year Matthew Mailloux the Prime Minister of student parliament and the high school are planning to win again. I love that the school is doing this fundraiser and that we are saving lives; I also really want to meet Rick Mercer.

Recipe

This recipe was highly recommended by my friend. If you like cabbage rolls this is an alternative to all the work involved in making them. It's made in one large skillet, super easy, healthy and delicious.

Unstuffed Cabbage Rolls

- 1 1/2 to 2 pounds lean ground beef or turkey
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 small cabbage, chopped
- 2 cans (14.5 ounces each) diced tomatoes
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 teaspoon sea salt

In a large skillet, heat olive oil over medium heat. Add the ground beef and onion and cook, stirring, until ground beef is no longer pink and onion is tender. Add the garlic and continue cooking for 1 minute. Add the chopped cabbage, tomatoes, tomato sauce, pepper, and salt. Bring to a boil. Cover and simmer for 20 to 30 minutes, or until cabbage is tender.

In The Loop

As we look towards a new term of council, this will be our last In The Loop column.

The Espanola Citizen Group executive has scheduled a town hall meeting for Wednesday, November 26 at 7:00 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Interesting information will be presented at this time and your input is needed on how you would like to move forward as an organization.

We ask all members to please attend and give us your suggestions. On behalf of the Espanola Citizen Group, we wish the new mayor and council every success as they begin their 4 year tenure.

In closing, I wish to express my thanks to everyone who has taken the time to read these articles and it is my hope that they have enhanced your understanding of our community.

Respectfully,
Richard Ellis, executive member
