Message To Aging To Baby Boomers – Don't!

Spring is meant to make us feel young again. Dandelions, a symbol of resurrection. The nesting of birds, a sign of rebirthing. Me? My back aches from pulling those damn weeds and cleaning bird crap off my windows. I feel old.

But I can't. I'm not allowed to. I'm a Baby Boomer. We are not aging. We are gaining life-enhancing experience and end-game wisdom. And for those of us not good at math – seventy is the new fifty! We no longer dread old age homes because now we have assisted living centres like Cloud Nine and Fading Embers. Sounds great! Makes you want to strap a dirt bike motor to your walker so you can get there faster!

In denying my aging as best I can, I'd sooner starve than dine at a restaurant offering an early bird special. I'd rather pay eight bucks for a bucket of popcorn rather than ask for the senior citizen's discount on a movie ticket. And don't get me started on coupons. Those things are 'age ID cards.' You might as well produce your birth certificate as a discount coupon at the supermarket.

Like most Boomers I am fighting aging the way we once battled authority. But there comes a time when all age deniers are forced to fish or cut bait. (No, not the Early Bird Fish Fry! Order the Spring Chicken Dinner and then leave before it arrives.) My seminal moment as a birth date disbeliever came at a small diner where I stopped for a bowl of soup at lunch. Like the best of the booth eateries, this was decked out in checkered table tops and tacky humour.

Next to the clock: "Our clock can never be stolen. Our employees are always watching it." And above the kitchen door: "Eat here and diet home." Over the urinal in the men's room was a sign that said: "We aim to please so—please aim!" It looked like the paint was peeling off the sign due to a downpour of acid rain.

So I finish my bowl of soup, beef barley with extra crackers and it was very good. At the cash register, I ask for a bottle of water and two oatmeal cookies to go. The waitress is young, bored and obviously laboring in a place well below her station in life. I'm sure she's an actress yearning for the day that Lorne Michaels walks into the joint and she quickly dons a red wig and throws herself straight into Lucille Ball's Vitameatavegamin routine.

In the meantime, she'll bide her time by cracking gum and jokes at the same time.

"That'll be $6.25, sir." I used to enjoy being called a "sir" but ever since I turned 60, I resent it. I was sure she was being sarcastic. She said "sir" but she meant "old sport."

From my money clip, I peeled off a five dollar bill. From the same pocket I fished out a loonie. Six dollars. No more. Damn! I'm twenty-five cents short. I spot a cup of pennies on the counter. "Take A Penny. Leave A Penny." I'm thinking empty the cup, put twenty-five pennies on the bill and leave the rest as her tip.

"I thought I had enough money," I said. "I usually only have soup."

"Yeah, but there's the water and cookies," she said, holding up the bag.

"Okay, why don't I leave the water and . . ."

"I already rang it in," she said, now tapping her foot to the rhythm of her snapping gum. "Maybe you want the Senior Citizens' Discount. It's twenty percent off." Damn! Nailed to the wall by the invisible coupon!

Then she hit a couple buttons on the cash register and said: "That would make it $5.95. You got enough for that." I wondered if she was being nice in offering me the discount or she just pegged me at sixty years of age.

"Yes, that discount thing will work," I said, putting down the five and the loonie and reaching for the bag with the bottle of water and two cookies. Then she pulled the bag back, just out of my reach.

"I'll need some ID," she said. Oh, that was just plain nasty! I couldn't say I had no ID, she'd seen all my cards when I opened my money clip.

She accepted my driver's licence and loud enough for everybody to hear, she said: "October 18, 1946." Then she popped the till and tossed a nickel on the counter.

"Just as I thought," she said.

"So you knew all along I was a senior citizen?"

"No, Libra," she said. "Forgetful."

Man, she was clever. She really was working way below her pay grade!

I grabbed my bag just as she said: "Would you like to join our Early Bird Eaters Club? They get all kinds of discounts." That's when I left . . . with the nickel!

As a Baby Boom age denier, I'd been outed by a spiked-hair, twenty-something waitress with enough rings and studs to rig up a clothesline. The real tip here: "Stay out of diners with wise-ass waitresses and tomorrow will be the first day of the rest of your strife, sorry life."

Volunteers Required for an Espanola Recreation & Culture Advisory Committee

By Rosalind Russell - The Town of Espanola is looking for members of the public to sit on the new Espanola Recreation & Culture Advisory Committee.

According to the posting at espanola.ca, this committee will serve to strengthen and increase recreation and cultural opportunities, and strive to improve the quality of life and experience for all residents and visitors.

Recreation and culture is broadly defined to include sport, arts and culture, indoor and outdoor leisure, festivals and community events.

The new committee is one of the many recommendations made within the new 10 Year Recreation Plan, which passed into law in the fall of last year.

Members must reside in Espanola.

To the greatest extent possible, public representation will be multi-sectored and include representation from the following stakeholder groups:

- Youth (13-18 yrs)
- Health Promotion (i.e. FHT, Health Unit, Mental Health)

- Minor Sports (i.e. hockey, soccer, minor ball, skating)

- Special Events (i.e. experience in organizing cultural, athletic or artistic events)

- Culture (theatre, choir, music)

- Seniors (55+)

- First Nations

- Not for profit Recreational Service (Golf Club, Ski Club, Curling)

- Private sector (i.e. personal trainers, class instructors, bowling alley)

- Library volunteer (board member or Friends of the Library)

One member of council will sit on the committee and be considered a voting member.

Application forms are available at the Municipal Office or can be downloaded from the website: espanola.ca. The deadline is April 12, 2018 at 4:00 p.m.

Submit the applications at the Municipal office, 100 Tudhope St, Ste 2, via email to town@espanola.ca or by fax to 869-0083; Attn: Espanola Recreation & Culture Advisory Committee.

Espanola OPP And Espanola Police Service Holding A Gun Amnesty

By Rosalind Russell - A Gun Amnesty is being held by police services, both provincial and municipal, across Ontario, during the month of April.

The Espanola OPP and the Espanola Police Service are also taking part in the initiative.

During the amnesty, police will not recommend weapons-related Criminal Code charges that might otherwise apply to people who are turning in these items.

Police note no amnesty is offered for people who turn in weapons that have been used in the commission of a crime and no anonymous submissions will be accepted. The gun amnesty is for any Ontario resident who wishes to voluntarily surrender unwanted or illegally-owned firearms, weapons, accessories or ammunition.

Interested gun owners can call the OPP or their local police service to arrange for officers to retrieve the weapons.

Under no circumstances should anyone deliver guns or ammunition directly to police facilities.

Rainbow Schools Receive Student Voice Speakup Project Grants

Innovative projects are being implemented in Rainbow Schools thanks to funding provided through the Ministry of Education's Student Voice strategy. Rainbow Schools will share a total of $16,930 in SpeakUp Project grants in the 2017-2018 school year.

Students will lead projects that make a difference in their schools while supporting the province's renewed vision for education - achieving excellence, ensuring equity, promoting well-being and enhancing public confidence - and Rainbow District School Board's strategic directions - reaching minds and touching hearts.

While each SpeakUp project varies from school to school, the initiatives have one thing in common - they are intended to promote student engagement and student success, whether the focus is on mental health and well-being or Indigenous education and our collective commitment to truth and reconciliation.

Espanola High and Manitoulin Secondary took part in a Peer

Mental Well-Being Support Training Session in February on how to provide their peers with supports in connection with mental health.

Little Current Public School will host an Anishinaabe Culture Day. "It's very gratifying when students identify a need in their school, get together to brainstorm ideas, take the initiative to apply for funding, and roll up their sleeves to take action," said Rainbow District School Board Chair Doreen Dewar. "We thank the Province of Ontario for valuing student voice and giving students an opportunity to be active participants in their education through the SpeakUp grants."

"With the support of the Ministry of Education, we have a number of exciting projects taking place for the benefit of students in Rainbow Schools," added Director of Education Norm Blaseg. "We commend students, with the support of the province, administrators, teachers and parents/guardians, for leading initiatives that promote well-being and foster student success."

School Boards to Proceed with Construction of New Catholic Schools in Espanola

of the schools is slated to begin this spring. The site will also include 50 day care spaces in each school.

This project came together after the Ministry of Education encouraged school boards operating in Espanola to work together to address student accommodation needs in the area. The goal is to maximize the use of space while ensuring that all students continue to have access to the best programming possible in quality school facilities.

"This joint project will enhance Catholic education in Espanola while ensuring the respect of linguistic differences. We are proud to know that all of our students from kindergarten through grade 12 will now be able to study and grow together in the same learning establishment," said Mr. André Bidal, President of the Conseil scolaire catholique du Nouvel-Ontario.

"This is great news for our students, staff and the community of Espanola. This new facility will enhance the learning experience for all students, both English and French," added Mr. John Caputo, HSCDSB Chair.

It's Back To The Drawing Board ... Again For Espanola Fire Hall

By Rosalind Russell - Espanola council wants to go back to square one when looking at the design of a new fire hall for the town.

At the last committee of the whole meeting in late March, Councillor Bill Foster, suggested that Fire Chief Mike Pichor come back with a layout for an 8,000 square foot pre-fabricated building.

The new layout would also include Public Work offices and sharing common areas, such as washrooms.

Council discussed the various concepts back and forth, but are rejecting the two-storey concept.

The last engineering study suggested a two-storey building, but Foster says there is simply too much wasted space.

Councillors agreed and Pichor is expected to re-activate his committee and come back to the committee with a redesigned grid layout for a new fire hall.

Jayson Stewart Producing New Local Film – The Philanthropist

A new film, The Philanthropist by Massey filmmaker Jayson Stewart, is being filmed locally.

Stewart says the short film came to him in a dream and filming will take place in May in Espanola and Gore Bay featuring a small main cast.

The Philanthropist is strongly influenced by the surreal worlds of David Lynch (Twin Peaks, Blue Velvet, Lost Highway, etc.), a lot of Stephen King's short stories and Neil Gaiman's American Gods.

Like a lot of their works, this short film, with a small cast featuring Dylon Whyte, Autumn Buratynski, Heather Stevenson and Liliane Chrétien, deftly peels back the real world we know to expose something... different, something dangerously beautiful.

"For some characters in the film, their problems in life are solved and they walk away with immense riches," explains Stewart. "For others, they choose a more sordid life and never return from their meeting with The Philanthropist."

And, if you want to be a part of it, there is a way. Walk-ons are needed and anyone who would like such a role is invited to mark Mother's Day in May on their calendar. Filming will take place at the old log cabin behind OK Tire that day. Around&About will have more details closer to the date. A couple of thousand dollars is needed to cover the costs of making the film, so the public can contribute by donating to the IndieGoGo campaign and earn film credit, on line and in print as well as in the film, and some other perks.

Recipes

An old, classic recipe apparently made by the ladies who served school lunches. These brownies are fudgy, chewy and totally amazing. These will satisfy any chocolate craving.

Lunch Lady Brownies

- 1 cup butter, melted
- 1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 cups granulated sugar
- 4 large eggs
- 4 teaspoons vanilla extract

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

- 1/4 cup butter, softened
- 1/4 cup milk (I use 2%)
- 1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
- 3 cups powdered sugar

Preheat oven to 350° F. Line a 9x13-inch baking dish with foil and spray foil with non-stick spray. Set aside. In a bowl add the melted butter and cocoa powder, stir or use a mixer to blend until smooth. Add the flour and sugar, beat together. Add the eggs and vanilla. Mix just until combined. Don't over mix. (Batter will be thick) Pour batter into prepared baking dish and spread out evenly. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Remove brownies from oven and let stand 15 minutes before frosting. You want the brownies still warm when you frost them!

FOR CHOCOLATE FROSTING: Beat together all the frosting ingredients until smooth. Pour and spread over warm brownies. Let cool completely before cutting and serving.
