How To Tell If Your Minister Is Also An Atheist

Toronto minister Reverend Gretta Vosper is a brave woman. Defiantly, every Sunday morning she stands before the congregation of her West Hill United Church as both a professed atheist and an ordained minister. To me an atheist minister sounds a lot like a vegan hunter or a pacifist mercenary but then again, we live in a world where reality is running for dear life with its pants down around its ankles.

Until last week the United Church of Canada planned to put Rev. Gretta Vosper on trial for heresy but instead reached a settlement in which the maverick minister could keep both her skeptical faith and her job. Until then the woman was about to be 'defrocked' which I'm guessing, sounds like something Stormy Daniels would do at a bachelor party for ten bucks a head.

Ordained 25 years ago, Rev. Vosper has been upfront about her atheism and non-belief in the Bible. While most church goers find her split beliefs at fundamental odds with the doctrine and values of the United Church, her own congregation seems to be quite supportive of her leadership.

Interestingly enough, her situation grabbed headlines when she wrote a letter to the church's spiritual leader after the January 2015 terrorist massacre at the Charlie Hebdo newspaper office in Paris. Her point: belief in God can motivate bad things.

With her contradictory situation now resolved, Rev. Vosper feels vindicated and free to preach church doctrine despite her non-belief in a "theistic, interventionist, supernatural being known as God."

The Reverend and her followers are confident she can deliver on the standard tenets and basic faiths of the church while still denying the belief of one God as the creator and ruler of the Universe. Still any sermon criticizing non-believers will be very, very awkward.

Gretta Vosper may be the first atheist minister in Canada but you can bet she won't be the last. With members fleeing the churches of all mainstream religions these days, allowing some personal choice and free thinking may slow the exodus. Trust me, there will be more preachers doubling as doubting Thomases.

Here then are sure fire signs your minister might also be an atheist.

- She spells God with a small "g", He with a small "h" and She with a capital "S."
- He refers to the Garden of Eden as both "the original paradise" and "a nifty little time share opportunity."
- When someone in the congregation accuses him of making a deal with the Devil he laughs and says: "Satan! Hell, I thought you said Santa!"
- She chastises the Three Wise Men for giving the baby Jesus gifts of frankincense and myrrh by asking: "Who forgot the diapers?"
- He arrives at the church food drive wearing a T-Shirt that reads: "Hear No Evil"

Have No Fun.”

- She urges her parishioners to attend her special Saturday night sermon: “What is Hell?” followed by a practice session of the church.
- When confronted about his belief in the Bible he refers to it as “a gassy novel that sold so badly they had to give it away.”
- She breaks a finger nail on the pulpit and yells: “Holy Crap!”
- In a sermon about the Jews place in Christianity, your minister gets ‘catechism’ confused with ‘circumcision’ and the service had to be cancelled due to excessive laughter.
- Blaming her dyslexia, she often refers to the faithfulness of the dog, instead of God.
- He ends each sermon with a rousing sing-a-long of: “Darwin Loves You, Yes He Does!”
- Claiming he has converted Jehovah Witnesses to his congregation, she warns her flock about people coming to their doors on Sundays who do not want to talk about ‘God’.
- From the outset she has followed two books of religious thought – The Bible and The Rebuttal.
- Noting the murder, rape, stoning and eye-gouging in the New Testament, your minister suggests a label on the cover of the Bible: “The following pages contain scenes of violence and animal sacrifice. Viewer discretion is advised.”

- You get the feeling he’s not big on Blasphemy when he refers to Benny Hinn and Creflo Dollar Jr. as “a real pair of A-holes!”
- She claims the “Light at the end of the tunnel” prophecy has been eliminated by the high cost of energy since Kathleen Wynne sold Ontario Hydro.
- When cornered about his emphasis of superstition over religion he throws up his hands and says: “Don’t get me started about the Amish!”
- She has reduced the Ten Commandments to six and wants “Though shalt not covet thy neighbour’s house” based on fair market value.
- His sermon on Easter Sunday featuring the Resurrection was titled: “Christ Calls In Sick.”
- And finally, you know your minister is sitting on Christianity’s fence when she refers to Heaven as “a bridge too far with really nice gates.”

Street Banner Contest Winners In Espanola

Espanola locals winning designs will replace the Invest Local banners for the downtown and Highway 6 corridor.

Espanola Mayor, Ron Piche, says the winners of the “Capture our Community” street banner contest are: Merle Canjar’s water colour, Kelli Hill’s acrylic and photography and Shylene Lingenfelter’s photography.

Piche adds the winning designs will be produced locally at OJ Graphix and will be hung this coming spring.

Just over 390 people voted for the winning designs at this year’s Pumpkin Festival in October.

With this success, the artistic work is not done. Piche adds the town will be hosting a winter street banner contest in the near future.

Santa's Big Day Celebrated With The Espanola Lions Club

Santa arrived on a red carpet, albeit in a sleigh, in fine form on Saturday, November 24th for his annual fete in Espanola.

Espanola Lions Club members were on hand to help him with meeting kids, feeding the youngsters hotdogs and helping out with their annual free swim and skate.

Public Health Sudbury &

Districts also hosted a skate exchange and the Espanola Figure Skating Club held a yummy bake sale.

Santa Claus capped off the day spreading Holiday wishes to the crowds who took in his annual parade later in the evening.

Giving Back To The Community - Moose Radiothon 2018

Anchor, Rosalind Russell. "Although the yearly goal is set at $1-million, VISTA has consistently raised between $3 to $4 million over the last few years.

"I'm proud that Espanola is part of that. Ever since the first one, which I dubbed the Sharing the Spirit campaign way back when, it is one of the biggest events we host throughout the year.

"Since the first radiothon, our charity of choice has been our very own Espanola Regional Hospital Foundation, since health care is such a high priority for our area, especially for our seniors.

"We have successfully raised thousands of dollars over the last seven years, the biggest project being the Espanola Therapeutic Park, which will be constructed this Spring for our long-term residents at the hospital site. It's absolutely wonderful to see the community, organizations and individuals come together for such worthwhile projects," adds Russell.

This year's 12-hour radiothon, which runs from 6:00am to 6:00pm on Friday, December 7th at the CJJM studios at 90 Gray Street in Espanola, will focus on raising $9,000 for a new IV pump and another $6,000 for a new physio bed.

"We, perhaps, will all need these vital pieces of equipment in the future," says Russell.

"Having this life-saving IV pump available and being able to help people with physical ailments, especially if they have suffered back injuries, with the physio bed, is the focus of this year's fundraiser.

"All donations, big and small, are welcome. We welcome everyone to drop by our studios to say hi to Mike (Dunn) and Terri (Noble) from the foundation and other special guests. And, if you would like to sing a song or two, or play an instrument, come on down and entertain our listeners."

Radiothon Raises $5,600 For Elks Hamper Fund

The 2018 Espanola Elks Annual Hamper Fund Radiothon will provide a Christmas hamper to around 200 families in the Espanola and North Shore area. The Elks teamed up once again with the Moose 99.3FM for Saturday's radiothon in the Espanola Mall and raised $5,600 and counting.

Some of the larger donations includes $1,498 from Freshco, $750 from the Lions Club and $500 from the Espanola Legion to name just a few.

Volunteers will purchase all the fixings for a complete Christmas dinner, which will be delivered on December 22nd in time for Christmas Day.

Visit our website to see photos from this years Radiothon.

A Little Rain Didn't Dampen Holiday Spirits For Annual Parade

Kudos to the many businesses and organizations that took part in this year's Santa Claus Parade in Espanola.

Despite the steady rain, smiles and good wishes reigned supreme for the annual event. This year's winners include:

Judges Choice Dansations; Community Spirit Espanola Scouts and Best Business Appliance Shop.

Visit our website to see photos from this years annual parade.
