Anonymous Complaint Leads To Unsafe Building Conditions Report At Sacred Heart

By Rosalind Russell - The Espanola town inspector has several serious concerns about Sacred Heart School, which is housed in the former AB Ellis Public School in Espanola. In a letter to parents issued Thursday afternoon, May 24th, school principal, Syndy Withers states the Huron Superior and Rainbow school boards are aware parents may have heard reports that orders of an unsafe building were issued by the inspector.

The orders were issued in response to an anonymous complaint, which led to the town inspecting the site on May 2nd. Withers states they are working closely with the owner of the building, the Rainbow Board, to ensure there is no danger to students or staff.

She adds to date they have had two air quality tests and there are no mould spores present.

Those tests were carried out in late winter. She adds also fire inspections have been

The Garden of Eden Revisited

Don't get me wrong. The Garden of Eden was probably a lovely place to live and a perfectly constructed waterfront community located between two rivers that ran into the sea. Location! Location! Location! Fortunately for this pristine spot, land developers were not created until thousands of years later when a lab experiment involving the creation of lawyers went horribly wrong. No, Eden by its very name was an ideal place. It's the residents that were poorly designed!

"The man was free to eat from any tree in the garden except that tree of the knowledge of good and evil. Last of all, God made a woman (Eve) from the rib of a man to be a companion for the man. The man and the woman were seduced by the serpent into eating the forbidden fruit, and they were expelled from the garden to prevent them from eating of the tree of life, and thus living forever." (Genesis 3:24)

So, according to this official version, God created a man He hoped would be fat, stupid, easily conned and dead at an early age. In many ways He got his wish. And creating a woman from the rib of the man? Strange that religious people who believe in this miracle are the same people today who are against stem cell research!

The creation of a woman in this manner is mind boggling. Also I think the cost to man should have been steeper, maybe an arm and a leg instead of just one rib. However, the most astonishing thing about the Garden of Eden story is that according to a recent survey in the United States, 40% of Americans believe in it literally! I mean even the staunchest of Biblical scholars have concluded that the story of the creation of man and woman is a well crafted, well told piece of mythology. Folklore for believers. Allegories for the strongly devoted.

If that survey is accurate, there are approximately 130 million Americans who believe in, among other things, a talking snake, marital bliss (albeit short-lived) and a road sign that once read "Welcome to Eden – Population Two." Oh and the "flaming sword which turned every way to guard the way of the tree of life." Either that's the world's first revolving eternal flame or Mesopotamia's first gated community.

It follows then that these Americans would also believe in an apple that was 84% water, 7% potassium and 100% rotten-to-the-core evil. Man, how the world's very first supermarket recall would have changed everything. And one little innocent apple made everybody embarrassed and scrambling to cover themselves? Poison ivy, maybe. A hill of fire ants, probably. But the apple a day that's supposed to keep the doctor away? No way. Almost everybody who has read the Garden of Eden legend believes the snake is no more than the animal embodiment of Satan. But Creationists? They actually believe that the snake hanging around the base of the tree looked up at a naked woman and said: "Has God indeed said 'You shall not eat of every tree of the garden'?" Wink, wink, hint, hint pointing to that shiny apple. No, wait, the snake can't point. The snake has no hands. The snake is limited to verbal communication skills! Please, at least God could have given that role to a parrot, don't you think? And if it's true that Eve, tempted by evil, sacrificed the human race for an apple, then you have to wonder what that woman would have done for a tub of Häagen-Dazs Cookies & Cream.

Although the creationist survey was been conducted with adolescents, I'd bet my car that teenagers, like 95% of them would favour the literal translation of the Garden of Eden story because of course ... Adam and Eve did not have parents!

Quite possibly the thing that stretches the belief system of the Creationists to the very limit is that in Adam you had a man who believed that all it took to cover up his manhood was a fig leaf.

Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children will be the home for an Espanola boy for the next few more months.

As of press time, nine-year-old Blake Bond is scheduled to undergo a bone marrow transplant (June 1st).

Blake just completed over two months of intense chemotherapy at the Children's Hospital in Ottawa.

Blake's aunt, Taryn Bond, says Blake is doing well and has spent the last couple of weeks resting with family and friends.

He is battling acute myeloid leukemia, a cancer of the blood and bone marrow.

He, and his mother, Kayli, are expected to stay in Toronto for the next six months.

In September of 2014 at the age of 5, Blake was diagnosed with week after his ninth birthday. Team Blake teamed up with The Beer Store in Espanola for a barbecue and bottle drive on Saturday.

Team Blake is a group of volunteers who are assisting nine-year-old Blake Bond's family.

Taryn Bond says the drive raised $2,849 and the barbecue another $755.

The funds will help offset the costs for his mother to stay in Toronto for the next six months.

The results of the Lobsterfest, another event held on Saturday, will be released in the near future.

one is going to admit that a fig leaf was big enough to hide the wedding tackle. Sorry but if you believe the physical change in Adam after he bit into that apple, then you have to think the first words out of that snake's mouth were: "Boxers or briefs?" And Adam? "Ah, Eve, I got something going on here. Better bring me the side of that barn to make sure things are completely covered up down there." (A fig leaf? Not even a loin cloth. Somebody was in a big hurry back then!)

Please note the logical origin of the names of the man and woman in the Garden of Eden. Adam from the Hebrew word "adamah" or "earth" and Eve from the same Hebrew word meaning "living." Apple? Completely overlooked for 2018 years by up to seven billion people. Nobody and I mean nobody on earth ever thought to name their kid "Apple" until Gwyneth Paltrow did it in 2004. (The other child's name is Moses which was a way better fit for a Biblical reference.)

Just to finish the story, after being outed as the world's first heterosexual couple, Adam and Eve had two sons Cain and Abel and Cain went on to murder Abel. And you thought your kids were a handful. Literally.

Memorial Ride Honouring Miner Who Inspired Into McIntyre Powder Research

Massey's Janice Martell says she is astounded by the number of people who came out to be part of the Ontario Network of Injured Workers Groups Fourth Annual Justice for Injured Workers Bike Ride.

The ride was held this weekend between Massey and Elliot Lake in tribute to her late father, Jim Hobbs.

The members recognized the significance of occupational disease on the province's workforce while honouring her father and other miners impacted by McIntyre Powder exposure. Over 80 people attended the seminar on Friday followed by the ride itself on Sunday and wrap up in Sudbury Sunday evening with a Sudbury Labour District Council meeting.

She adds it is difficult to put into words all of the overwhelming sense of support and solidarity - occupational disease is very isolating for families, as is being an injured worker.

The Ride provided such a sense of connection, kinship, and solidarity - showing the leaders of Ontario that we are united in our efforts to overhaul the WSIB system and ensure fairness for workers and their families, Martell added.

Anonymous Complaint Leads To Unsafe Building Conditions Report At Sacred Heart

completed and water lines are flushed daily.

Still with the story, the town wants several studies done including complete structural, mechanical, engineering and architectural reports.

Rose Burton Spohn, the Director of Education for the Huron Superior Catholic School Board says the board wants to talk directly to Espanola building inspector, Dan Rivet, as to his concerns about the condition of Sacred Heart School, which is housed in the former AB Ellis Public School.

She says the board was somewhat puzzled to receive orders from the Espanola building inspector when they have carried out testing over the last year on water, electrical and air.

She says safety is their priority. She says they need to talk to the inspector to get more information before any further action can be considered.

She is encouraging parents to contact the school if they have any concerns.

Meanwhile, the Rainbow District School Board didn't have much to say about the unsafe school findings.

While a new school is being built in Espanola, Sacred Heart is leasing the property for at least the next two years.

The Rainbow Board owns the building and Director of Education, Norm Blaseg, says the board has a lease agreement with the Huron-Superior Catholic District School Board for the use of the building.

He adds, the board will abide by the lease agreement and will continue to dialogue directly with senior staff from the Huron-Superior Catholic board.

The town has yet to respond to inquiries about the inspector's findings.

Recipe

Rhubarb season is here. Rhubarb is actually a vegetable that thinks it's a fruit. Its sweet/tart flavour is deliciously used in many dessert recipes. This Strawberry Rhubarb dump cake is a super easy way to use up some of the rhubarb that is growing in your garden. You can serve this hot or cold, with or without a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Strawberry Rhubarb Dump Cake

- 4 cups diced Rhubarb
- 4 cups quartered strawberries
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 Tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 Teaspoons vanilla
- Pinch of salt
- 1 box yellow or white cake mix
- 1 cup Sprite or 7Up Soda
- 1/4 cup melted butter

Combine strawberries, rhubarb and sugar in bowl. This is the part that takes the longest of the entire recipe. But it is also the most crucial. It allows the flavours to blend and provides a soft and juicy fruit filling. Stir until all the fruit is coated. Then let sit for one hour. After soaking for an hour, drain all but 1/2 cup of the juice that was expressed. Stir back in the remaining 1/2 cup juice, plus the corn starch, vanilla and salt with the fruit. Preheat the oven to 425 Degrees. Lightly spray a 9X13 pan and then pour in the fruit filling. Sprinkle with the cake mix. Drizzle the top with the melted butter and a cup of soda. DO NOT STIR! Bake for 25 minutes at 425 degrees. Lower the temperature to 350 degrees and cook for the remaining 15-20 minutes. Cook until the cake is golden and the rhubarb is soft. This is even delicious made ahead and served cooled. The filling has a chance to thicken up and the flavors to blend more. Store it in the fridge overnight and if you want it warm, you can toss it in the oven on a low temp to warm it a few minutes.
