A Racquet of a Celebration Planned at Espanola Tennis Courts

Tennis enthusiasts Don and Daphne Allen moved to Espanola from Elliot Lake 13 years ago and shared their love of the game by offering free tennis lessons.

Don Allen passed away this year, but his volunteer legacy lives on.

Their son, Dave, inherited his parent's love of the game and became a professional tennis player.

He passed away last spring.

Daphne has donated memorial shade benches for the tennis courts as a tribute to both her husband and son.

The memorial benches will be unveiled at a Tennis & Tea Celebration in honour of the Allen family and Daphne's loved ones on Sunday, June 3rd at the tennis courts from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m.

The celebration will also mark the opening of Espanola's new pickle ball courts.

Pickle ball is the largest growing racquet sport in North America.

The courts are located at the Espanola Golf & Country Club

And That Was Just Last Week!

As a reader of several newspapers, it's always a good week for me when items jump off the page and require second takes.

"No Frills celebrates 'swagger' with clothes." This article announced that the discount grocery chain will be launching its new line of clothing under the brand name "Hauler." The initial offering includes T-shirts, long-sleeve T-shirts and a sweatshirt all in the store's trademark bright yellow colour. A marketing spokeswoman said: "This is a way of celebrating the No Frills swagger." Really! Sobey's might aspire to "swagger" and Zehr's could lay claim to "zesty", but No Frills? Swagger?!? How about a line of really bright coloured clothing that tells the world: "I'm A Cheapskate, Okay?" or "No Name. No brand. No Deli. No Problem!" You know what I'd add to the hems and cuffs of all that yellow clothing? Frills. (And I do shop there.)

"Century-old partnership between Mormon church and Boy Scouts ends." As its first sponsor, the Mormon church has partnered with the Boy Scouts of America for 105 years. Although the church is not commenting, it's believed the real reason for the split is that the Boy Scouts of America have been welcoming gay scouts and gay scout leaders into their organization over the past few years. Mormons do not march to the drummer in the Pride Parade. Although BS of A is not commenting, I believe they fear the influence of the Mormon church on scouts and will rue the day that Wolf

Cubs start taking seven or eight Brownies as wives. Also scouts could lose their trademark punctuality from a church linked with Latter-Day Saints.

The Boy Scouts of America are also ending their relationship with forward Brad Marchand of the Boston Bruins. After much discussion, the scouts concluded nobody can "Be Prepared" to be face-licked by anything other than the family dog. (Placing the words "Marchand" and "dog" in the sentence brought up 13 "likes" on Facebook.)

"Georgia Gameshop robber caught in record time." A thief in St. Marys, Georgia was arrested in a matter of minutes after showing complete disregard for the standard dress code followed by retail robbers. The man was caught on camera wearing a clear plastic bag ... in order to disguise his face.

"Election play of paying for support drifts into Canada." 'Astroturfing' is the actual name for what P.C. Leader Doug Ford did when he hired actors who pretended to be his shoutin' and hollerin' grass roots supporters at a rally in Toronto last week. It's the same fake support tactic Donald Trump has used - paying people to cheer, wear his T-shirts and hold his "Make America Great Again" signs at political rallies that were really well-orchestrated theatre. With no government experience, a background in business only, a penchant for absurd statements, Doug Ford and Donald Trump could be political twins. "Audit Kathleen Wynn."/"Lock Up Hillary Clinton." "Fire the CEO and Board of Hydro One!”/”Drain the Swamp!” If you like Trump, you’re going to love Doug Ford. He’ll make Mike Harris look like an intellect!

“Oliver North named President of the National Rifle Association.” Well, if anybody knows about guns it would be the guy who in 1985 cooked up the harebrained scheme to illegally sell U.S. weapons to Iran and use the money to fund the contras in Nicaragua and then something about rubber duck dog racing and naked charades. It was complicated. So much so, President Reagan claimed he didn’t know a thing about it, hoping the whole thing would blow over with his line: “Sometimes the right wing of my administration doesn’t know what the far right wing is doing.”

Weighing in on North becoming head of the NRA, White House Press Secretary Huckabee Sanders said President Trump wanted to call Oliver North a passionate patriot, an outstanding American and a soldier’s soldier, but the best he could do was: “Ollie’s great. He’s a great guy. He’ll do a great job.”

“American Airlines announces new restrictions on animals.” American Airlines has reduced the list of emotional support animals people can bring aboard their planes. As of July 1st, absolutely no insects, goats, hedge hogs, ferrets, chickens, birds of prey or snakes. Really? There’s a woman out there who feels more comfortable at 38,000 feet because she has a cricket in her pocket! And chickens! I don’t think the person being emotionally supported or his bird are going to feel real good when Chicken à la King pops up as the only option left for the in-flight meal!

Strangely enough miniature horses are still okay onboard Americans Airlines because passengers really enjoy betting on the undernourished flight attendants racing these ponies up and down the aisles. Small wagering only.

“Man suffers burns while testing camping equipment.” To the 20-something camper in North York who set fire to himself while testing a propane stove in the bedroom of his 18th floor apartment – there’s a very good reason a lot of nature is located in the “great outdoors!” Now get healed, get packed and go set fire to Algonquin Park.

If you still maintain a sense of humour, you can’t possibly imagine a world without newspapers because when the going gets weird, the really weird make the headlines.

Active Forest Fires Across Sudbury Region

The fire danger is high across Northern Ontario and the public should be aware of their responsibilities.

One fire was close to Nairn Centre, but is under control.

As of May 16th, Sudbury fire number 5, is under control.

It covers 12 hectares, is located approximately six kilometres south of Nairn Centre, east of Wabagishik Lake

There were ten active forest fires in the Northeast Region, by May 15th.

The forest fire hazard is moderate to high across the region and the public is asked to take precautions.

If you’re planning to perform any outdoor burning, make sure you have tools and water on-hand to put your fire out; and never leave it unattended.

Fires are to be started no sooner than two hours before sunset and extinguished no later than two hours after sunrise.

If you must burn, make sure you know the rules and follow Ontario’s outdoor burning regulations to ensure you burn grass and woody debris safely. Residents of municipalities should also check any local bylaws that may be in effect prior to burning.

To familiarize yourself further with Ontario’s outdoor burning regulations, visit Ontario.ca/forestfire.

New OPP Auxiliaries A Possibility For Manitoulin-Espanola OPP

By Rosalind Russell - Want to know what it is like to work with the Ontario Provincial Police – the auxiliary is a great way to find out.

The OPP recently removed Espanola’s detachment from the Sudbury office and blended it with Manitoulin Island.

Now that working relationship has been established, Manitoulin-Espanola OPP Community Safety Officer, Marie Ford, says she hopes there is enough interest to auxiliary units both in Espanola and on Manitoulin Island.

Ford adds they are looking for interested individuals between 18 to 65 years of age.

Anyone interested in becoming an auxiliary police officer must spend 10 hours on patrol with an OPP officer as well as maintain six hours of training every month including the use of force and firearms, although they cannot carry guns.

Ford said that auxiliary police are trained in the use of force. They are also trained to use firearms, but cannot carry them.

Anyone interested in applying to the Auxiliary Policing Program, go to www.opp.ca. The application form can be printed out. There will also be information about the program, duties and specifics for qualifying. Once the application has been filled out it should be marked ‘Auxiliary Application’ and dropped off at either the Little Current or Gore Bay OPP detachments on Manitoulin and at the Espanola detachment, with the line: to the attention of Sargent John Parsley.

Filming Completed On The Philanthropist

Chrétien, all local area actors. Stewart says for some characters in the film, their problems in life are solved and they walk away with immense riches.

Jayson Stewart wrote and directed the short film, the Philanthropist.

He says filming took place in Gore Bay on Saturday, May 13th and everything went off without a hitch.

Stewart says they had four actors on set and a crew of eight with about 13 hours of film in the can, including all the interior shots.

Then, on Sunday, they shot the outdoor scene with 17 background actors, all local extras, and film principles behind OK Tire in Espanola. The film is strongly influenced by the surreal worlds of David Lynch of Twin Peaks fame and a lot of Stephen King's short stories.

The short film features Dylon Whyte, Autumn Buratynski, Heather Stevenson and Liliane

For others, they choose a more sordid life and never return from their meeting with The Philanthropist.

Stewart adds now that we have the filming is done it goes to the editing and sound crews to tweak the film.

He hopes to have a final product done by the end of June.

NE LHIN Funding Aboriginal Health Centre In Espanola And Massey

The North East Local Health Integration Network (NE LHIN) is directing funding to help ensure primary health care for more people in the local area.

Part of the investment of $1.9 million is supporting an Aboriginal Health Access Centre (AHAC) in two North Shore corridor communities. Noojmowin-Teg Aboriginal Health Access Centre is receiving $810,000 to expand to Indigenous people in Espanola and Massey.

The new services will include a full-time nurse practitioner who will provide clinical services within the Espanola Family Health Team.

The Centre Place will house a full-time Indigenous mental health and addiction counsellor and cultural support worker and will include a culturally specific space for counselling and traditional services, as well as an activity space for workshops and cultural safety training.

Health Centre executive director, Pamela Williamson, says she is pleased to receive funding for an expansion of primary care services to Anishinabe people living within Espanola and area. She added as a priority, the organization will seek to engage the community in greater awareness of the new services, develop pathways for referrals and linked services with Espanola partners, and ensure that the services respond to the needs of clients.

The Town Of Espanola Is Ready To Wheel Out Its Espanola Commuter Cycle Plan

Espanola EDO, Cheryl Kennelly stated in a press release, that the Wheels Out for Bike Month Community engagement is at the crux of Espanola's Commuter Cycle Plan.

She says the people of Espanola will help build the framework to develop an active transportation network to improve cycling infrastructure, trail identification, signage and cycling amenities.

Bike month will kick off in Espanola with a public bike tour on Friday June 1st at both 1pm and/or 6pm with the consulting team from Share the Road Cycling Coalition & Liem Strategic Integration.

It will include a guided 90-minute, family friendly ride around Espanola.

The public bike tour will begin at the Town Office and end at the Recreation Complex for refreshments and an exchange on what participants view as the opportunities and challenges for cyclists in Espanola. Still with the story, Kennelly adds Oraclepoll will also begin a telephone survey the week of June 1st to garner community input for the plan.

The community is also invited to participate in an online survey.

The month will wrap up on June 27th with a Stakeholder Consultation Workshop and a Community Consultation Session.

Oraclepoll will also begin a telephone survey the week of June 1st to garner community input for the plan and the community is also invited to participate in an online survey at bit.ly/EspBikeSurvey.

The community is encouraged to register for the public bike tour and community engagement sessions.

Recipe

This Rice Pilaf recipe is perfect with anything from chicken to fish and makes a great change from plain white rice. It's quick, easy, full of flavour, adaptable, and so much better than packaged rice. It's a perfect way to use up leftovers; you can add vegetables or meat to make it a one pot meal. You can also turn it into a vegetarian dish by using vegetable stock. I found the original recipe too salty, so I have cut back the amount of salt used. Season to your taste.

Rice Pilaf

- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
- ½ small onion chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Freshly ground black pepper
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 tbsp dried parsley
- 1 cup long grain rice ( Uncle Ben's never fails me)
- 2 cups chicken stock

Melt the butter with the onion in a medium saucepan over medium heat. Season with the salt & pepper and cook until the onions are soft, about 5 minutes. Add the rice and stir until coated with the butter. Increase the heat to medium-high. Stir in chicken stock, bay leaf and parsley. Raise the heat to medium-high heat and bring to a boil. As soon as it reaches a boil, lower the heat to a low heat, cover and cook until all the stock has been absorbed by the rice and the rice is tender, about 15 to 18 minutes. Remove from the heat and let set for 5 minutes. Discard the bay leaf. Fluff the rice and serve.
