Integrity Report Rift - Espanola Council Meeting Abruptly Ends

Photo: Four Espanola councillors left council chambers at Tuesday night's meeting, October 30th, after declaring a conflict of interest leaving Deputy Mayor Bill Foster, Mayor Ron Piche and Councillor Bob Yocum to pass a resolution calling for no financial sanctions against the remaining councillors. Staff then walked out of the meeting and with no clerk, the meeting was closed. Photo by Rosalind Russell

By Rosalind Russell - Espanola's council meeting on Tuesday night, October 30th, ended abruptly when town staff walked out, including the CAO.

At issue was the Integrity Report calling for financial sanctions against four councillors: Ron Duplessis; Ken Duplessis; Ray Dufour and Heather Mallott.

Integrity Commissioner Shearer Parnega recommended they lose a portion of their stipends for what she deemed abusive and intimidating behavior.

A Poem for Remembrance Day "The Inquisitive mind of a child"

Why are they selling poppies Mummy?
Selling poppies in town today.
The poppies child, are flowers of love.
For the men who marched away.

But why have they chosen a poppy, Mummy?
Why not a beautiful rose?
Because my child, men fought and died
In the fields where poppies grow.

But why are poppies so red, Mummy?
Why are the poppies so red?
Red is the colour of blood, my child.
The blood that our soldiers shed.

The heart of the poppy is black, Mummy.
Why does it have to be black?
Black my child, is the symbol of grief.
For the men who never came back.

But why, Mummy are you crying so?
Your tears are giving you pain.
My tears are my fears for you my child.
For the world is forgetting again.

All The World's A Circus

In A Chaotic World, Thanks Be To The Surprise

In a world on its knees looking skyward for help but all the while anticipating the sound of a great big flush, the element of surprise has become a great distraction.

Although my capacity to be shocked is being diminished daily by the outbursts of insanity emanating south of the border, I was still surprised by David Weaver, the guy who stripped naked and jumped into a tank of sharks at Toronto's Ripley's Aquarium. Swimming with dolphins I get. But sharks that could misconstrue a buttock for a jellyfish or a willy for a dew worm!!!

What surprised me most was his faithful companion, holding his clothes and then quickly helping him get dressed once the cops were called. "Yeah," I can hear her saying to herself, "I hope he doesn't lose it because that's the man I want to be the father of my children!" Okay but when he takes the whole family on African safari, do not let him slather the children with bacon jam.

Weaver immediately fled the city of Toronto and good luck finding any fugitive these days because the week before – folks, I do not make this stuff up – the head of Interpol, The World Police Agency in charge of finding criminals on the run ... went missing. It's believed China captured Meng Hongwei in a game of hide and seek revenge.

Yeah, the games people play like in Birmingham, England where passersby looking through the windows of the North West Bank noticed everybody hiding under desks. Several people called 999 with a robbery in progress. Turns out it was a human resources team-building exercise in which the employers were playing ... a game of hide and seek. Maybe next time musical chairs, but definitely not cops and robbers.

The Birmingham bankers fared far better than the Chinese bankers in Nanning City, where during a meeting in the boardroom a huge python fell from the ceiling and onto one of the employees. No, not team building, more like a poorly organized 100-metre dash. In a world weirder than Al Yankovic, don't think a Birmingham/Nanning bank exchange exercise is not in the works with a team building game of hide reptiles and seek ladders.

Amphibians causing disruptions in the business day hit home with a hospital director in Hawaii when she got nine irate calls from associates who claimed she had called them but refused to speak. When she checked her phone she discovered a tiny gecko walking across the screen and dialing everybody on the "recently called" list. People who received silent calls were most upset because despite what they were told in the TV ads, they were unable to save 15% or more on their car insurance.

While almost anything to do with American politics would surprise even the most skeptical, you have to hand it to Dennis Hof, known as "Nevada's Most Famous Pimp." A Trump-style politician, Dennis Hof also happens to be ... dead. Recently but really deceased. The owner/Operator of the Moonlight Bunny Ranch is a sure bet to win a set in the state legislature next week. Should he lose, Trump plans to nominate him to the Supreme Court where he will sit beside Neil Gorsuch and Brett Kavanaugh, his other conservative stiff.

Community Living Espanola Luncheon An Overwhelming Success

It's ten years old and has only grown in popularity every year, and this year was the best by far.

The Community Living Espanola (CLE) Tenth Annual Fall Harvest Luncheon was a sell-out this year.

With over 175 people attending the luncheon and dozens of take out orders as well, the volunteers were kept busy in the kitchen keeping up with demand.

And, thanks to the support of so many local businesses, the penny table was a huge success too with organizers also selling out all their tickets. With that success, comes financial support for CLE, with the funds going to support local programming.

Organizers extend a huge thank you to everyone who volunteered, assisted, attended and supported the event!

But the greatest misadventure that caused astonishment in India last week was the take-down of a bank robber by a police officer pursuing him on foot. As the seasoned criminal with 18 outstanding warrants for his arrest began pulling away in the chase, the officer fired his weapon which ... jammed! So in the loudest voice he could muster, he yelled (I did mention not making any of this up?) "BANG! BANG! BANG!" The bank robber stopped in his tracks, cowered and was promptly arrested. Good thing he surrendered quickly because apparently that cop does a great impersonation of a hand grenade as well.

In baseball, the Florida Marlins just signed Cuban brothers Victor Victor Mesa, 22 and Victor Mesa Junior, 17 to long term contracts. Their father ... wait for it ... Victor Mesa proudly attended the signings. The press conference ended when Mrs. Mesa yelled "Victor! Lunch!" and three guys got into a fight over a hot Cuban panini. I was reading a sports article on the nicknames of great NFL secondary teams like Pittsburgh's

The Steel Curtain and Denver's The Orange Crush surprised that the author of the article had not included The Electric Company – the amazing 1970 Buffalo Bills front four so nicknamed because "they plugged in the juice." But then again, this was long before O.J. Simpson murdered his wife Nicole and her friend Ron Goldman, otherwise those four guys would have been called The Electric Chair Company. And yeah, in a just world they'd have definitely plugged in The Juice.

And finally, Dustin Strawser was released last week from Jackson Pike Jail in Columbus, Ohio after serving time for theft. He walked out the front door of the jail a free man and promptly stole a car in the parking lot for the ride home. More upset about the theft than Dustin's parole officer was inmate Chris Murphy who owned the car and planted it there for his release ... because he did plan ahead! Surprise! Surprise!

Poppy Campaign Underway In Espanola And Across Canada

Espanola Royal Canadian Legion Branch #39 President, Gary MacPherson, and Poppy Chairman, Dan Kryzanowski were joined by Espanola Mayor, Ron Piche, and EMS staff representing the Manitoulin-Sudbury DSAB for the official raising of the POPPY FLAG and WAR PENSIONERS OF CANADA NORTH SHORE BRANCH on Friday, October

26th, officially launching The Poppy Campaign 2018. The flags will fly until midnight November 11th. Similar ceremonies are being held by Legions across the country to mark the launch of the national campaign. The local Sea Cadets, volunteers and members will be selling poppies right up to Remembrance Day. Photos by Rosalind Russell and/or Hero Cadets

Integrity Report Rift -Espanola Council Meeting Abruptly Ends

The four declared a conflict of interest on a proposed resolution and left council chambers while the three remaining voted in favour of not imposing financial sanctions, rather calling for the implementation of a vision plan to improve relationships between council and staff.

At that point, the staff including department heads all walked out and with no appointed clerk present, the meeting was abruptly shut down.

Still with the story, town lawyer Paul Cassen told The Moose the resolution is legal because of a ruling under the Municipal Act that states if a quorum is present at the beginning of a meeting and conflict of interests are declared, the remaining members can vote on resolutions.

A special emergency meeting between council and staff will have to be called by Mayor Ron Piche within days to try and move forward on the plan. The case came to a head this year when nine department heads complained to the Integrity Commission about how council treated them.

Work Progressing Well At New Espanola Fire Hall

Work is progressing quickly on Espanola's brand new fire hall.

The foundation is in and now the hard services are being installed.

To install water services, the town had to close the street on Thursday, November 1st.

The contractors are hoping the cold weather holds off, so they can complete construction in the near future.

Photo: The foundation is in for the new Espanola Fire Hall, which will feature four bays, office and training space, as well as administrative rooms.

Thank You

I would like to thank the citizens of Espanola for supporting me during the campaign and on election day.

Your support was greatly appreciated and I look forward to serving the community for the next four years.

Sincerely,

Jill Beer

Recipe

If I had to pick a favourite family recipe that I've been eating since I was a kid; homemade potato soup would definitely be one of the top 5. My mom would serve each steaming bowl with a dollop of butter melting across the top, and my dad and I would tear up a piece of white bread and add it to our bowl. I still eat potato soup with bread in it and never crackers. My kids grew up eating it as well, and it's my middle son's favourite soup. Over the years I have adjusted the recipe just a bit (I now add celery) and I have tasted other great recipes containing ham, bacon, cheese or other vegetables, but this is the basic recipe that never fails me. This makes a large pot of soup, so I usually half the recipe.

Homemade Potato Soup

- 10 cups of raw potatoes, peeled and sliced thinly
- 2 onions, chopped fine
- ½ cup celery
- 4 cups of water
- 4 tsp salt
- 6 tbsp butter
- 5 cups of milk

Put potatoes into a heavy saucepan. Add onions, celery, water and salt. Cook over medium heat until vegetables are tender. Do not drain. Mash with a potato masher. Stir in butter and milk and heat until hot.
