Thrill-Seeking, Selfie-Takers, High-Wire Halfwits And More

So I'm looking at this photograph in the "Life Section" of the Toronto Star of a 19-year-old kid hanging on for dear life at the end of a steel beam that juts out from a crumbling railway trestle – about 300 feet above the ground. No sign of the person with a gun who forced him to go out on this heavy steel limb, just a young man whose hands and finger nails are the only things keeping him from falling into the forest below and certain death.

As it turns out this kid, whose Instagram user name is _abu_dahbi, is not in the death-threatening predicament because someone forced him out there at gun point. No, he climbed out on this beam hand-over-hand in order to get a selfie of himself clinging to the edge of self-extinction. He's intentionally attempting to defy death. He's a thrill seeker. Sadly he's not alone. Ever since the first selfie taken from Washington's Vance Creek Bridge went viral, young (and I'm being generous in using this word) people have arrived from France, Germany, England and Australia to do Yoga, push-ups, pull-ups and all manner of poses on this abandoned wooden trestle in the foothills of Mount Olympia.

This dilapidated overpass is the second tallest railway bridge in America and a mecca for morons who want to be famous for carrying off a stunt so inane and dangerous it would normally warrant a Darwin Award. But because they lived, they're ineligible. The Darwin Awards claim that those who perish while executing a really stupid stunt are actually "removing themselves from the human gene pool" and thereby making the world a better place. By not dying these thrill-seekers are actually impeding evolution as well.

Once a train trestle for flatbed cars hauling timber from logging camps to urban mills, the Green Diamond Resource Company closed the 61-year-old wooden structure down in 1960 when the cutting of old-growth timber ended.

No matter what deterrents the owners of the bridge put in place – barriers, barb wire or $150 trespassing fines – the falling down bridge is officially "internet famous" and on the bucket list of fame-seeking fools from all over the world. With its missing ties, broken boards and collapsed railings, the Vance Creek Bridge would be a serious safety hazard to a qualified skyscraper construction worker, let alone teenagers acting like two-year-olds.

This Vance Creek bunch are not to be confused with action enthusiasts who take measured risks in rock climbing, mountain biking and inline skating, etc. Thrill seekers are not into action sports, they're into subtraction sports where you subtract your date of birth from today's date and come up with the number on your death certificate.

So that nobody need be confused, here are a dozen sure-fire signs you might be a thrill-seeker:

- You drive on the QEW even when you don't have to!
- You're at a party and the hostess is shredding fruit for the punch bowl in a high-

Arson Incidents – Request For Public Assistance

On the 17th and 18th of September 2018 Espanola Police Service and Espanola Fire Department have responded to three separate fire incidents that were determined to be the result of arson, and are seeking the assistance of the public to help solve these crimes.

The first fire incident occurred at the Espanola Recreation complex on September 17th at approximately 4:41 am. The fire was set in a wooden garbage dumpster in the area of the track and field, and resulted in a large fire that destroyed the dumpster.

The second fire incident occurred on September 18th at approximately 12:51 am at a residence on Queensway Avenue. The residence had previously been damaged by an accidental fire on September 2nd, 2018, and was again set on fire by the suspect. An Officer was on patrol and observed the fire, and the fire was quickly extinguished.

The third fire incident occurred again on September 18th at approximately 11:46 pm. This fire occurred in the new construction project off Queensway Avenue, and was once again determined to be the result of arson. The fire was observed by residents and was quickly extinguished.

The Espanola Police Service is requesting that anyone with information relating to any or all of these arson incidents contact the Espanola Police at (705) 869-3251. Information can also be provided anonymously by calling Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477, or online at www.sudburycrimestoppers.com. Tipsters remain 100% anonymous and could be eligible for a cash reward of up to $2,000.

speed blender, so you stick your hand in it.

- You spot one of those “Hop On/Hop Off” double-decker tourist buses coming down the street so you hop under it.

- You spent five days tracking down high wire artist Nik Wallenda so your buddy could snap a photo of you giving him a “wedgie”.

- You once yelled “I hate Trump!” at a Doug Ford rally.

- When you book an airline ticket you always select the seat nearest the emergency exit because you never know when you might want to “fly like an eagle”.

- Before paying the $255 to do the CN Tower Edge Walk, you ask if it's cheaper without the harness.

- You got thrown out of your local skydiving club because you showed up dressed as Mary Poppins and tried to jump out of the drop plane with an umbrella instead of a parachute.

- Every year you attend the Honda Indy Toronto Street Race hoping you'll get a chance to jaywalk.

- On tour of an ancient Egyptian castle that features alligators in the moat, you suddenly get an overwhelming urge to skinnydip.

- You hold a loaded gun in your hand for the first time and suddenly the big toe on your left foot appears to have a bulls-eye on it.

- You bungie jump Switzerland's 220m Contra Dam using 20 lb. test nylon fishing line.

Okay, so you might be a thrill-seeker. There is help. Instead of indulging in cockamamie selfie stunts, go to the store and buy a newspaper. Then sit in a quiet spot and turn to the section slugged “World News”. I guarantee it will scare the crap out of you without ever leaving the house.

High School Violence - Espanola And Manitoulin - Leads To Lock And Secure At Espanola Schools

By Rosalind Russell - It all started on Friday, September 14th when an altercation between two students at Manitoulin Secondary School escalated into what is now being called a brawl. Manitoulin OPP says on the Friday around noon, they responded to a disturbance at Manitoulin Secondary School. A 15-year-old youth from M'Chigeeng First Nation has been charged with uttering threats to cause death or bodily harm and assault.

The youth, who cannot be identified under the Youth Criminal Justice Act, is to appear in Gore Bay Youth Court on September 26th.

Then, the following Monday, Espanola High School was put on lockdown for about an hour and a half, and all five schools were put on hold and secure for the majority of the day, until around 1:30pm.

Espanola Police Sergeant Bill Lamore says police were at all five Espanola schools during a hold and secure, which is where the exterior doors are locked and monitored by a teacher, but people are free to come and go.

He says that Monday morning, police received information that Facebook posts were circulating about a potential threat to a high school, and as a result, all five schools in the Espanola area implemented the “hold and secure” until early afternoon.

Lamour adds the OPP and service worked together to track the origin of the threat, which suggested that a “drive by shooting” at either the Espanola High School or Manitoulin Secondary School might occur, following the incident at Manitoulin High the Friday before.

Lamour says police talked to an individual who admitted to telling friends rumours that had no valid basis and police determined that there was no specific threat to conduct a “drive by shooting” at either of the two schools.

Then, on Tuesday, September 18th, additional charges against several people were laid involving the brawl at Manitoulin Secondary School.

The difference of opinion between two students had escalated along what many call racial lines and the brawl broke out in the parking lot.

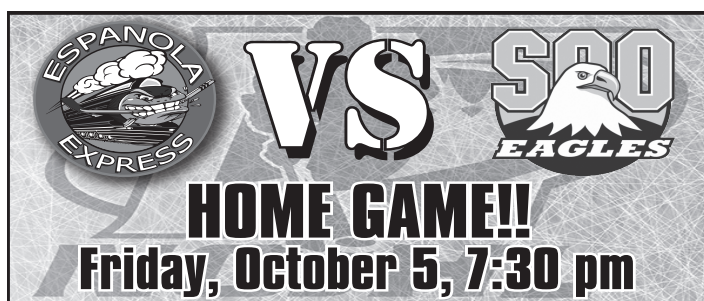

Several students fled and told their parents, many of them whom were from M'Chigeeng.

As a result, several parents showed up and now several people are facing charges, so far all from M'Chigeeng First Nation: a 38 year-old woman, 16-year old and 17-year old youth have all been charged with assault; a 14 year-old female with uttering threats and assault and a 13 year-old youth with assault with a weapon and possession of a dangerous weapon.

They are to appear in Gore Bay court on October 31st.

More charges may be laid.

The investigation is ongoing and anyone with information is asked to call OPP.

Talks Fail Between Town Of Espanola And Espanola Police Service Association

By Rosalind Russell - The members of the Espanola Police Service Association will have to go to arbitration following a breakdown in talks. Espanola Police Association President, Constable Ed Stortz, says the police association and the town (police board) met earlier this month to discuss a number of issues related to the impending disbanding of the police service and a contract since the members have been without one since December 2016.

Stortz says mediation talks started out with the best intention of coming to an agreement but with no success and mediation ended.

That has now forced the two sides into arbitration talks on September 24th.

The severance packages are high priority since the Espanola Police Service will be officially disbanded by October 11th and will be paid out by the municipality.

The terminations affect 20 people; the chief, 11 officers, dispatchers and a full-time court clerk.

There has been no comment by town officials/negotiators.

Espanola Mayor Apologizes To Staff And Council – Integrity Commissioner Report

Espanola Mayor Ron Piche apologized to staff and council at the regular meeting.

Piche was cited in a recent Integrity Commissioner report as not maintaining control over council and being abrasive and rude with his commentary at times.

Piche says he apologized at Tuesday's council meeting for the code of conduct violations to the staff and the disrespectful tone he used towards council at meetings during his term.

He also acknowledges that he failed to observe order and decorum at the meetings, but adds he has investigated what his responsibilities and rights are as a mayor and promises better control.

The four other councillors named in the report: Ray Dufour, Heather Mallot, Ken Duplessis and Ron Duplessis, did not take part in the investigation, have made no comment, and have not responded to a request for comment either.

The Integrity Commissioner, Shearer Parnega, wrote a very critical review of Espanola council's behaviour saying the elected politicians harassed, undermined and were abusive to municipal employees.

The case came to a head this year when nine department heads decided to complain to the Integrity Commission over how council treated them. Once the complaints were made, that triggered a Code of Conduct investigation.

Fishy Fishy Bang Bang

grocery stores.

At Fishy Fishy Bang Bang it means big smiles on our faces! We've unpacked the orange gear, the duck decoys are hung and the crossbows are strung! That's right, for those who love to hunt - it's practically Christmas!

That doesn't mean it is all fun and games. Like every sport, you need to check your equipment before the big game. It's time to dig out the rifles, shotguns and bows. Check your hunting gear and clothing.

Here are a few things to check off your list:

If you didn't clean your barrels it is an ideal time to do so. If you aren't sure how, just drop on by when Roc or Will are here and we will give you a tutorial. Bring your kit.

Check your rifle and bow sights now. Don't wait until the week before. Fire off a few into a target and make your adjustments. You would be surprised how a small bump in storage can affect your shot. Count your ammunition and check your arrows. Do you have enough steel for ducks? Have you considered the new copper bullets for large game? For a few cents more per bullet you can avoid lead fragment contamination of your food with the same stopping power. Interested in learning more? We've got information for you.

Have you tried on your hunter orange and camo? We all had a few extra dock days thanks to the fantastic summer we just had - you may want to double check. In fact, it may be warm this fall. Make sure you are ready ahead of time because nothing is worse than sweating in a stand.

How are your stands? It's a great time to double check those shooting lanes and walk ins to your favourite duck spot. It's better to haul out the chainsaw now, as you'll want your spot undisturbed for opening. Speaking of stands, you can draw in more does by putting out some mineral licks. Never a bad idea to hang a few cameras and see what's visiting!

Look up! Those honkers are on the move and geese are open. Nothing brings in a goose like a good call. Test yours out and practice a bit before the morning. Reeds can go soft and may need replacing. We have some beautiful hand carved calls if you want to try out something new.

Hey now, fishing isn't over yet! There are still some great weekends ahead and we will keep the minnows and worms coming. Come on over to Fishy Fishy Bang Bang and catch fall fever! We have some great racks hanging to get your motor running.

Oh - one last thing - we will have a buck pole this year! We are proud to be a weigh in station for the North Shore Big Buck Contest. Streamside has donated some great prizes and we can't wait to see your weight! Details coming soon.

Check us out on Facebook and www.fishyfishybangbang.com.

Majors Win North Shore Fastball Finals Fourth Year In A Row

The Espanola Majors have won the North Shore Fastball finals for the fourth year in a row.

They beat out the Elliot Lake Jackleggers, seven to one, winning the first three games of the five-game series.

The fastball league was founded five short years ago, and Espanola has come out on top the last four years in a row.

It Was Hot, It Was Muddy, It Was So Dirty, But It Was So Much Fun

That's the assessment of Boogie Mountain's new president, Patrick Wittman. His first major event, the Boogie Fun Mud Run was a sharp learning curve.

"We had a strong contingent of kids for the youth run. There were muddy smiles, exhausted participants, but we want to congratulate all participants who attended."

They only had 25 registrants by Friday morning, but by Saturday at 2:00 p.m., that number exploded to 105 registrants beating their goal of 100 participants for this first time event.

Wittman says they have not tallied up all the funds raised as of press time, but it's estimated around $3,500 was raised to go towards the Espanola Ski Hill's upcoming winter program.

"We also had many businesses and support services donate food, water, and so much more. There was some awesome assistance from the Army reserves, Espanola firefighters, North Shore Search and Rescue, Manitoulin-Sudbury District Services Board, Paramedic Services, the Town of Espanola public works department and other volunteers from the community.

And, will they be doing it again ... you betcha!

Recipe

Thank you to one of our out of town customers/readers for the following recipe. She tells us these muffins are delicious and ALMOST guilt free. Chocolate and peanut butter is my absolute favourite combination and I'm anxious to bake and try these muffins this weekend. I appreciate her for taking the time to bring the recipe in and for sharing it with all of us.

Healthy Double Chocolate and Peanut Butter Muffins

- ¼ cup cocoa powder
- 2 tbsp oat flour or all-purpose flour
- ½ tsp baking soda
- ¼ tsp baking powder
- ½ tsp salt
- 2 tbsp brown sugar, lightly packed
- ½ cup creamy peanut butter
- ¼ cup unsweetened apple sauce
- ¼ cup vanilla Greek yogurt
- 1 tsp vanilla
- 2 tbsp honey
- 1 large egg
- 5 tbsp dark chocolate chips

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Spray muffin tins (do not use liners). Stir together cocoa, flour, baking soda, salt and brown sugar. In a separate bowl combine peanut butter, apple sauce, greek yogurt, vanilla and honey. Beat until completely combined. Mix together the dry and wet ingredients until just combined and then add the egg, don't overmix. Stir in the chocolate chips. Pour the batter into the muffin tins and top each muffin with additional chocolate chips. Bake 18- 22 minutes or until a toothpick comes out clean.
