PEERS® adolescent support program in Rainbow Schools Public Health Sudbury & Districts and the Rainbow District School Board have teamed up to pilot a social skills training intervention program. Called PEERS®, the Program for the Education and Enrichment of Relational Skills is geared to teens with autism spectrum disorder. Medical Officer of Health, Dr. Penny Sutcliffe, says forming and maintaining trusting relationships with teachers, friends, family, and adults is key to students having a sense of belonging and supporting their mental health. NOTICE TO MASSEY RESIDENTS

Due to the extreme cold weather conditions we are recommending that you leave a cold water tap running in a steady stream of about 6mm (¼ inch). Please note that the tap does not need to be open fully to keep your line from freezing.

If you are concerned about your septic system, run a hose out to the ditch to drain the water away from your system.

Some additional suggestions:

- Wrap foam pipe insulation around pipes most susceptible to freezing (e.g. near outside walls, crawl spaces, attics)
- Do not turn your furnace below 13 degrees C (55 degrees F) at night or when the house is vacant
- If you are planning on being away, have someone check your house regularly

Canada – The World's New Rodney Dangerfield

Have you noticed that in the last seven months, Canada has been getting kicked around on the world stage like a beat-up soccer ball at the feet of global bullies? Well, we have.

Like everything that is foul and requires flushable sanitary wipes to clean up – it all started with U.S. President Donald Trump. At June's G7 Summit, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau described Trump's steel and aluminum tariffs on Canada as "kinda insulting." Adding, "we will not be pushed around." He'd said these things several times before. But this time the American president went ballistic. Desperately in need of a new scandal to distract from his last one Trump called Trudeau "dishonest and weak" labelling his comments "false statements." "There's a special place in hell for Trudeau" said Peter Navarro, Trump's trade advisor and primary fart catcher.

Canada, a highly respected global do-gooder that always plays by the rules was being pummelled by a fat-ass, power drunk despot whose grasp on world politics comes from watching Fox News, the official propaganda wing of the Republican Party. Suddenly, Canada became the world's new Rodney Dangerfield! As the late comedian might say ...

"Canada, I tell ya that country gets no respect. No respect at all. At the G7 Summit in Ottawa all the other leaders asked Justin Trudeau to take the official photo. That way he wouldn't be in it!"

"No respect... why every time Canada goes to play in the sandbox, the cat keeps covering him up."

I mean sure, we're still a very young country, but still ...

"I tell ya, Canada gets no respect. When that country was born the doctor gave it a good slap... and the nurse got a few shots in too!"

Then, mistaking diplomacy for weakness the royal autocracy of Saudi Arabia, sorry ... Saudi Arabia took great offense to an innocent email from our Foreign Affairs that Canada was "gravely concerned" about recent arrests of women and human rights campaigners. Immediately the dictatorship in the desert expelled our Canadian ambassador, recalled its Ottawa envoy and pulled all Saudi students out of Canadian colleges and universities. Yeah that'll teach us, eh? We'll never sleep again knowing thousands of rich Saudi kids are being denied a privileged education! "So I said to my wife, those Saudi kids are really spoiled. She said a lot of kids smell like that."

"I tell ya, Canada gets no respect, no respect at all. That country's proctologist wasn't even a doctor. He was a wedding photographer. Half way through the examination he told Canada to bend over and say cheese."

I'm thinking the very least we can do is send Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman and his personal guard a bunch of T-shirts that say: "Never take a bone saw to a passport office."

"Those Saudi princes, they're mean guys. I tell ya, they're the kind of people who would put crazy glue in your Preparation H."

And it's not as if all our good friends and allies are coming to our defense.

"I tell ya, Canada's so depressed it tried to jump off the CN Tower last week. The United Nations sent a priest up to help. He began by saying: 'On your mark, get set ...'"

And as if that kind of international disrespect wasn't enough, China took a real nasty run at us when we detained Meng Wanzhou in Vancouver, the financial head of a hugely powerful digital company called Huawei. At the extradition request by yet another Trump poodle, John Bolton, Canada got caught in the middle of the US/China trade war.

"No respect. Yesterday Canada went to the mall and got separated from her parents. The police were called. Canada said: 'Do you think you'll find my parents officer?' And the cop said: 'I don't know, kid. There's so many places they could hide!'"

Honouring our treaty, Canada had no choice but to detain Wanzhou. A B.C. judge gracefully allowed her to spend her arrest in one of the many multi-million dollar mansions her family owns, this one in Vancouver.

"I tell ya, Canada gets no respect. I just looked up Canada's family tree and there were two dogs peeing on it!"

Not exactly grateful for our kindness China immediately arrested two innocent Canadians named Michael on trumped-up charges and quickly commuted the sentence of Canadian Robert Schellenberg from prison time to death row.

"I tell ya, Canada gets no respect. Justin Trudeau said to Xi Jinping, 'Man, you got me walking around in circles.' So Xi nailed his other foot to the floor!"

Man, it's hard to win a political battle when you're a country that plays respects the duty of law up against a tyrannical regime that uses military tanks to crush street protestors.

"I tell ya, all this nonsense is making Canada an old and tired country. Just yesterday Canada dropped a Loonie in a slot machine and three prunes came up!"

Canada, regularly voted the best democratic country in the world is being slapped around by a triumvirate of egotistical tyrants.

"But I'll tell ya, Canada's still got class. Canada's got so much class, it's the kind of country that steps out of the shower to take a leak!"

You Should Know Where It Is Illegal To Smoke Cannabis Or Tobacco, Or Use Vapour Products

The Smoke-Free Ontario Act, 2017, now includes additional restrictions to denormalize smoking and to protect people from being exposed to second-hand smoke and vapour. With recent changes to the Act, Public Health Sudbury & Districts is raising awareness about where it is illegal to vape, smoke, or hold lighted tobacco or cannabis.

Public Health Sudbury & Districts' Smoke-Free Ontario Act Inspectors enforce the rules that prohibit smoking and vaping under the Act. The fines for not following the laws are substantial, and individuals can receive penalties of up to $305 for a first offence. The inspectors conduct checks of properties to ensure compliance with the Act and respond to complaints.

"Our top priority is keeping these substances out of the hands of youth and protecting the public from second-hand smoke and vapour," said Burgess Hawkins, a manager with Public Health Sudbury & Districts' Environmental Health Division. "The same laws that apply to smoking tobacco also apply to smoking cannabis and the use of all vapour products," said Hawkins.

Given the prevalence of students using vapour products nationally, people should be aware that smoking and vaping is prohibited in schools, on school property, and within 20 metres of the perimeter of the school property. These same rules apply to all community recreational facilities, including arenas, gyms, pools, and sports facilities.

Other places where smoking tobacco or cannabis, and vaping is prohibited under the Smoke-

Free Ontario Act, include:

- enclosed public places
 - enclosed workplaces (including workplace vehicles)
 - any indoor common area of a multi-unit dwelling
 - child care centres, home child care centres, and any place where an Early Years Program or service is provided
 - hospitals and psychiatric care facilities, including all their outdoor properties
 - long-term care facilities and within a 9-metre radius surrounding any entrance or exit
 - restaurant or bar patios including public areas within a 9-metre radius of the patio
 - children's playgrounds and all public areas within 20 metres of any point on the perimeter of a children's playground
 - the reserved seating area of a sports arena or entertainment venue
 - sporting areas and public areas within 20 metres of any point on the perimeter of a sporting area or a spectator area adjacent to a sporting area (some exceptions apply to certain locations)
- Several local municipalities also have bylaws that include more restrictions than the Smoke-Free Ontario Act. Check with your local municipality to see if bylaws exist for smoking tobacco or cannabis, or vaping. Contact Public Health Sudbury & Districts for more information about the Smoke-Free Ontario Act, enforcement or to make a complaint; to learn about the risks of smoking and vaping; or to find out about the services offered by the agency's Quit Smoking Clinic, please call 705.522.9200 (toll-free 1.866.522.9200) or visit www.phsd.ca.

Mental Health Focus Of Several Initiatives In Rainbow Schools

to improve social and coping skills, enhance emotional and behavioural well-being, and increase awareness about mental health and prevention strategies. Dr. Sutcliffe adds facilitators want to determine if the program can be effectively transferred to the classroom setting for the benefit of all students.

Kids Have Stress Too! ®

Grade 1 and 6 students in Rainbow Schools are learning strategies for stress and success. Since September, they have been engaged in Kids Have Stress Too! ®, a program that aims to positively influence social and emotional development.

Board mental health lead, Mary Jago, says research tells us that stress among children is estimated to have increased 45 per cent over the past 30 years. She adds, stress can affect a child's ability to get along with others, think intuitively, and learn.

Kids Have Stress Too! ® is being delivered by Rainbow District School Board's mental health team in six-week blocks. Students engage in a series of skill-based activities and lessons that range from five to 50 minutes.

Teachers, who are involved in the program as learners, are taught a variety of ways to create a peaceful, safe and stimulating classroom environment, while delivering the curriculum.

"The Kids Have Stress Too! ® program is one of many ways in which the Board is fulfilling its commitment to enhance the mental health and well-being of students and staff," says Norm Blaseg, Director of Education for Rainbow District School Board.

Rainbow District School Board

adopted its first Mental Health Strategic Plan in September 2018. The plan guides the Board's work by embedding student mental health policy within its strategic planning; raising awareness to decrease stigma and increase the capacity to recognize the signs of mental health problems early and how to access the appropriate intervention; and implementing evidence informed promotion, prevention, and intervention mental health services to promote mentally healthy classrooms.

Wolves United supports mental health at Espanola High School Sports, social activities and chats are all part of an initiative coming to Espanola High School.

Espanola High School Principal Kristina Rivard Gobbo says students will walk away with tools and strategies to help cope with, and manage, their own mental health.

The school received a $1,900 grant from Wolves United, a partnership between the hockey organization and United Way that supports youth-based programming.

The money will be used by the mental health collaborative inquiry team to host two Mental Health and Well-Being Afternoons for all 470 students, which will be held in the near future.

Gobbo adds students will explore healthy coping strategies for anxiety and stress, and ways to recognize and understand mental health conditions in others.

One Of Espanola's Youngest Citizens Needs Help

He is literally the size of his father's hand.

One of Espanola's newest citizens, Alexander Hartley Sheppard Junior, arrived barely two weeks ago on January 15th, two and a half months early weighing in at just 2.12 pounds.

His parents, Alex Sheppard and Avery Laurin have been going back and forth to the Sudbury Natal Critical Care Unit ever since.

Over the January 25th weekend, the family was flown to Toronto Sick Kids Hospital for a permanent IV to be inserted to help tiny Alex fight a bout of meningitis that developed the week before.

The baby is now back in Sudbury, but he will require ongoing care for a while.

To that end, a Go Fund Me has been set up to assist the family with costs not covered by any supportive program.

Donations are appreciated. For the link to the fund, go to: <https://www.gofundme.com/6s3d2pk?>

Princess Tea Was So Much Fun

By Makayla Raby - The Princess Tea at the Queensway Pentecostal Church was so much fun this year.

I saw a lot of my friends and we got treated like princesses having our nails done, playing games, meeting Snow White (she's real, you know) and Belle and Cinderella.

We were told we should be proud we are girls and we can be anything we want to be.

It was great and I can't wait to do it again next year!

Recipe

I find as I'm getting older I appreciate a delicious, dense and flavourful coffee cake more than I ever did before. Apparently chocolate cake isn't the be-all and end-all, after all. Whether you eat it in the morning with coffee, or in the afternoon with hot tea, it's always so good, especially during the cold and snowy weather. Many people think the name means there is coffee in the ingredients but this is not the case, it just means it's a cake best served with coffee. I personally think this would be a great cake to make for your co-workers to have with their morning coffee (hint, hint favourite office baker). Fresh or frozen berries can be used and other berries can be substituted for the raspberries.

RASPBERRY ALMOND COFFEE CAKE

CAKE:

- 1 cup fresh or frozen raspberries, thawed
- 3 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1 large egg
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract (or almond)
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds

ICING:

- 1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1-1/2 teaspoons whole milk
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

In a bowl, combine raspberries and brown sugar; set aside. In a large bowl, combine the flour, sugar, baking powder, baking soda and salt. In a small bowl, whisk the egg, sour cream, butter and vanilla. Stir into dry ingredients just until moistened. Batter will be dense. Spoon half the batter into a greased and floured 8" round baking pan. (Make sure to completely cover the bottom of pan, it will seem like there is not enough batter but there is. (Using a small off-set spatula to spread it around evenly helps.) Top with raspberry mixture. Spoon the remaining batter over raspberries. (Again, it will seem like there is not enough batter. Just swirl it around gently, you don't have to completely cover all of the raspberries.) Sprinkle with almonds. Bake at 350 degrees F for 20-25 minutes or until a toothpick inserted near the center comes out clean. Cool on a wire rack for 15 minutes before removing from pan. During the cooling time, carefully run a sharp knife around the edges to loosen them. In a small bowl, combine the icing ingredients; drizzle over the coffee cake and serve.

THANK YOU

Thank You

The family of Art Graham would like to thank many people for the excellent care he received while here in Espanola.

Veterans Affairs provided many services for our father, as did Bayshore Home Health. A special thanks to Kelly, Letitia, Leanne and Tonya! You helped us navigate the health system and attend to his specific needs.

We would also like to commend the paramedics, EGH emergency staff and the staff of the acute care wing, as we felt your support and service was exceptional. Our father was treated with professionalism, warmth and dignity, which we will forever be grateful for.

Sincerely,
The Graham Family
