100th Anniversary of Remembrance Day

By Rosalind Russell - Communities across Canada gathered together to mark the 100th Anniversary of Remembrance Day.

Locally, hundreds of people took part in Remembrance Day Ceremonies in Elliot Lake, Blind River, Kagawong, Massey and Espanola.

This year's Silver Mother in Espanola is Leona Arnold, who laid the first wreath in honour of her son, Cpl. Glen Arnold.

Arnold says she is well aware her son's name is the last on the cenotaph shared

'Boomer Bashing' By The Millennials? Why You Ungrateful Little Punks!

Leave it to the Millennials--with 40 active wars currently being waged around the world, they decided to start one more: "The War Against The Aged." All of a sudden these self-absorbed children of the selfie born between 1981 and 1996 are publicly accusing us, the babies born into the post-war economic boom, of being solely responsible for the mess this world is in.

To which we, nee of 1946-1964 reply with a collective shout: "Hey! Get off our lawn!"

Seriously, have these screen-addicted, mirror-loving, job-hopping, pseudo intellectuals forgotten what we, The Boomers, have contributed to their world? We gave them Elvis and the Beatles, the 1972 Summit Series, seatbelts and the pill, a 40-hour-work week and national healthcare, recreational drugs and the Pocket Fisherman. We gave them the transistor radio, Gilligan's Island, and the Ed Sullivan Show. (To understand why every generation hates the previous one, Google: "Ed Sullivan won't allow teenagers watch Elvis shake his pelvis.")

Forty years old today, we gave them Happy Meals for goodness sake and a drive-thru so they could pick up their food without putting down their phones.

Even Millennials, "The Trophy Kids" who were rewarded for just showing up, cannot deny that on a personal level we provided the cream for their precious coffee and transfat margarine for their whole-wheat toast and alcohol when they were feeling down and barbiturates to bring them back up again and theme parks with live whales to entertain them. We even legalized marijuana so they could forget everything I just mentioned while binge-watching Game of Thrones and waiting for the Domino's Pizza guy to deliver Chinese food. And look at all the money we lent them to go to college?!

And a trillion cars out there on the road all at once and gazillion gallons of oil and gas to keep them going. And plastics, enough plastic bags to cover the oceans and...

Okay, they may have a point. We Baby Boomers really have turned this planet into a bit of a cesspool. But, um...well, we meant well. We really did. Our parents didn't want us to be tough and going off to war like them. They wanted us to be well off and comfortable and that we became.

Still, in the 60's we set out to change the world, end the wars, bring down status quo and share the world's resources equally while providing for the less fortunate.

Then somebody whispered in our ears: "The job pays $36,00 a year and comes with a company car." And instead of marching or volunteering or joining Canadian University Students Overseas and making the third world a healthier and wealthier place, thereby eliminating terrorism and mass migration before it even began, most of us said: "Two weeks paid vacation and put us on the pension plan."

And so the deal was sealed. We came to that generational fork in the road and instead of taking the hard way, the pot-holed, pit-falled highway of world reform, we slipped down Easy Street. We got fat, we got soft, we got back 7% annually on our investment portfolios.

But the most recent shot fired by the Millennials across the bow of the good ship Boomer is an ageist, disrespectful insult to anyone over 55. "Ok Boomer." Delivered with rolling eyes and dripping sarcasm, Millennials are now publicly dismissing us with a popular "Yeah, yeah. Who cares? Whatever?" slur. "Ok Boomer." We may be contrite but we're still relevant, damn it! Let me tell you what's going to happen to the next molly-coddled Millennial who confronts a man of my age with "Ok Boomer." I am going to kick you in the groin. Sorry, the knee. Okay, the shin. Alright, but I swear I will step on your toes really, really hard. Also, I'll give you a serious weggie which by the way, we also gave the world. No, wait. Here's how we'll respond to "Ok Boomer." First, we'll come to where you live. No, not your parent's basement, that's where you sleep. Imagine hordes of old people coming to Starbucks, sitting silently across the table from you and drinking weak-ass instant coffee from styrofoam cups! And right before your very eyes we'll add refined sugar and powdered whitener and stir it with a plastic straw.

And then we'll grab your iPhone and get a selfie of you spewing into a six-dollar monogrammed cup of Double Pumpkin Spice Latte Frappuccino. And as your running to get away from us, we'll give you another weggie. We Boomers should be grateful to Millennial's for one thing--if it wasn't for them, we'd be the most spoiled generation ever! The young can have no concept of wisdom and therefore they naturally ignore their elders who by the time they earn it, are only too eager to share it. Every generation blames the previous age group for all the woes of the world and therein lies the catch. By the time the Millennials get off their high horses to get mobilized, two things will have happened.

The next age group--and I hope it's called The Greta Generation as in Thunberg-- will be blaming you Millennials for all their problems and by then you won't have a punching bag because most of us Boomers will be dead. The generational hate game--it's like a round of musical chairs played at a wake. ## Resolution Of Sexual Harassment Charge Against Former Espanola Police Chief Espanola Police Service dispatcher filed sexual harassment complaint against chief — allegations he denies.

An Espanola woman is now speaking publicly about a harassment complaint she brought against the town's former Police Chief Steven (Steve) Edwards.

Cindy Valiquette, who worked as a dispatcher with the Espanola Police Service for a decade, alleges she was subjected to inappropriate touching and sexual innuendoes from Edwards, who worked his way up from sergeant to chief during the same time.

He has denied all of the allegations and no criminal charges have ever been laid against him nor have any of the accusations been proven in a court of law.

Edwards was suspended with pay in 2017 following Valiquette filing a complaint with the Human Rights Tribunal of Ontario.

An investigation was also launched through the Ontario Civilian Police Commission with no resolution following the disbandment of the Espanola Police Service, and the fact that Edwards has since retired from policing. Edwards who has maintained his silence on the allegations continues to strongly deny them.

The complaint was set to come before a tribunal hearing in Sudbury in October, but the two sides reached an agreement, which has not been made public.

Espanola CAO Cynthia Townsend had no comment except to acknowledge the town covers all the expenditures related to the case.

Valiquette is still hoping the Ontario Civilian Police Commission might yet issue a ruling that holds him more to account, but realizes that is unlikely to happen.

Memorandum of Understanding signed for N'Swakamok Native Alternative School

A historical signing has taken place, which will affect the education of First Nations in the Sudbury area.

Rainbow District School Board communications director, Nicole Charette, says the formal signing of a memorandum of understanding is now in effect. She says the Rainbow District School Board and N'Swakamok Native Friendship Centre officials signed a Memorandum of Understanding for the N'Swakamok Native Alternative School.

Charette says the purpose of the document is to strengthen educational opportunities for Indigenous students in Sudbury, ensure students have equal access in completing their secondary school diploma and support services available for all Indigenous students.

Students attend the school from throughout the Manitoulin and Sudbury districts.

Manitoulin Island Getting Its First Tim Hortons

With the approval of a site plan, Manitoulin Island will get its first Tim Hortons.

A local business has received preliminary approval from the Council of Northeastern Manitoulin and the Islands for its site plan.

Town CAO, Dave Williamson, says the new 2,745 square-foot restaurant is to be located at 45 Manitowaning Road in Little Current.

Council approved the plan adding an amendment that more handicapped parking be added.

Recipe

Don't you love when you find and try a new recipe and it's a winner!? I made this casserole last week and it was a hit. I know it's a success when I don't have any leftovers. It is a super easy version of Chicken Pot Pie and quick to put together; using crescent rolls instead of pastry. You can use a rotisserie cooked chicken to make preparation even quicker. I seasoned and put 3 boneless, skinless chicken breasts in the oven and cooked them first.

Chicken Pot Pie Casserole

- 1 lb Chicken Breast
- 12 oz Frozen Peas and Carrots, thawed
- 2 cup Frozen Hashbrowns, thawed
- 1 Onion diced
- 2 cans of Cream of Chicken Condensed Soup
- 1 cup Water
- 2 cans Refrigerated Crescent Rolls.
- 1/2 tsp Poultry Seasoning
- Salt and Pepper to taste.

Cook chicken breasts until cooked through. Allow to cool. Sauté onions until transparent and set aside. Dice chicken into 1/2" cubes. Preheat oven to 350.

Grease a 11x13" baking dish.

Unroll 1 can of crescent rolls and pinch perforations to seal into a sheet. Press into bottom and up sides of prepared dish. Don't worry if sides do not go all the way up. Bake for 20 minutes or until crust is light brown. Allow to cool.

In a large skillet, combine chicken cubes, diced onion, water, potatoes and peas and carrots. Stir and cook over medium heat until ingredients are warm (5-10 minutes).

Add soup and poultry seasoning and continue heating for another 5 minutes. If sauce looks too thick, slowly add a little more water until desired consistency is reached. Pour chicken mixture over baked crust and spread evenly.

Unroll other can of crescent rolls and pinch perforations to seal into a sheet. Place over top of chicken mixture and press into sides of dish. Bake for 25 minutes or until top is golden brown.

Welcome to Local Hippie's weekly tip for living a greener life! Each week we will provide you with a quick tip to help you reduce your carbon footprint and change the world.

This week's tip: opt for earth-friendly Christmas cards and letters!

Each holiday season, billions of Christmas cards, photos, and letters to Santa are sent through the mail, but have you ever stopped to think about the environmental impact?

Not only do these cards and letters use billions of pieces of paper, but having them shipped around the country - or even world - requires several forms of transportation and carbon emissions!

Luckily, I have a few earth-friendly options for you!

- > Send your Christmas cards to friends and family by e-mail! You can keep this plain and simple, or you can create them online and jazz them up with fun images and animations.
- > Post your Christmas cards and pictures on social media (like Facebook) for all of your friends and family to see.
- > Have your children e-mail their letter to Santa at emailsanta.com
- > Have your children write their letters to Santa on a chalkboard or whiteboard at home and assure them that Santa will see it while they're sleeping!

Cheers to an earth-friendly holiday season!

Have questions? Feel free to forward them to jaymie@localhippie.net

In Memory of Lawrence Doucette

It is with heavy hearts; the family of Lawrence Doucette announces the passing of their beloved father, grandfather and great grandfather. On November 02, 2019, at the age of 93; Dad/Papa passed away peacefully at Little Current hospital surrounded by his family.

Born in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia on January 13, 1926; Lawrence is the son of the late William Doucette and Isabella nee Deveau. Growing up during the depression he truly knew the meaning of hardship.

Lawrence served in the army from 1944 to 1945. At the age of 22 he moved to Espanola and began his career at KVP in 1948. Dad was an achiever. He worked his way up to become a millwright. He was very passionate about the rights of employees and improving benefits for families and because of that he joined the Local 74 union. He was a union committee member from 1975 to 1978. Following that, he became President of the union from 1978 to 1980; something his family is very proud of.

He also developed the east side of Clear Lake known as Foucault Drive. He purchased a large parcel of property where he built three homes.

Our father loved the outdoors and being near water. He lived the last 15 years of his life living in his cottage enjoying the sights and sounds of nature which was so dear to him. He was an avid hunter and fisherman. He travelled abundantly but his favorite place was the north. He truly loved the Northwest Territories.

Dad lived his life to the fullest. He was always humble and lived his life with integrity. He led by example. He was a man of few words but loved deeply. He showed us what strength looks like. We are forever proud of him and love him beyond words.

Lawrence is survived by his sister Helen of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia and Bertha of Espanola.

He is predeceased by his wife Jeanine nee Laderoute and sisters Irene, Margaret, Doris, Veronica and Evangeline.

Lawrence is the beloved father of Maureen (Pierre Emond), Janice (Don Andrews) and Matthew (Karen).

He is loved dearly by his grandchildren Daena, Tisa, Reece, Kyle and Vanessa and great grandchildren Alina, Rhyis and Piper.

A very big thank you to the attentive nursing staff and our lab technologist Daena and Tisa of Little Current hospital for your expertise and compassion for dad while he was in hospital.

Dad/Papa will live in our hearts forever.
Rest well; until we meet again.
