Christmas Ideas On Labour Day?

By Rosalind Russell - It is not too soon to think of making a special (weatherproof) decoration for a special tree out on the Black Creek Sno-Shoe Trail.

Lee Morley, the president of the Espanola Game and Fish Club and volunteer Dennis Lendrum hosted a special gathering on Labour Day to mark the introduction of a wheelchair accessible picnic table and a partial revamp of the trail to allow for full access.

Jolene Courtemanche got the honours of putting her handprints on the table and led the group of about 50 people on the trail.

There is now a Christmas tree on the trail, and both Lendrum and Morley say with the help of volunteers and donations they plan to finish the accessibility of the trail in time for Jolene to put her decoration on it, as well as donors, in time for the Christmas season. MPP Mike Mantha and MP Carol Hughes, not only personally contributed financially, but also lent some muscle power to the project. They both gave kudos to the club and volunteers who are making this a beautiful place to be.

The Park is now used for family gatherings, hiking, picnicking, fishing and even weddings – there were ten held there so far this year.

Pinecone Academy Opens Its Doors

The Pinecone Academy had a bit of a setback in set up due to the storm that went through the area in late August but held a successful grand opening. The school is a nature-based homeschool pod in Massey for Pre-Kindergarten to Grade 1 and held an opening and registration last Friday.

Organizers say about 50 people attended and took in the different work and play stations and reviewed the school's learning programs. They expect the yurt, which will be used as the school's main classroom will be installed within the next few weeks.

The school has been successful in raising over $7,000 towards the yurt and school supplies.

Check out the school on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/PineconeAcademy>

Mantha Supports Planning Grant Application For Retrofitting AB Ellis Building

The clock is ticking on the final decision about either tearing down the AB Ellis building or retrofitting it for senior and low-income housing apartments. Rainbow Community Non-Profit Housing spokesperson Fred Yackman says they know the proponents of the retrofit are racing against the clock to save the building.

He says they have received a letter of support from Algoma-Manitoulin MPP Mike Mantha for their application of a planning grant to move forward on the feasibility and architectural designs that have been completed so far.

The board reiterated its support of a motion to apply to the Ministry of Education for funding the demolition of the building in June.

That approval could come any day.

Yackman adds he is waiting to hear from the Rainbow District School Board to meet with the trustees and present the work done so far.

Sixth Candidate In AMK

There is a latecomer to the roster of candidates for the Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing riding. Harry Jaaskelainen of Echo Bay is the sixth candidate in the riding and he is running for the People's Party of Canada.

A businessman who has resided in Algoma for most of his life he says his campaign will focus on the rise of globalism, Canadian COVID-19 vaccine policies and the nation's lack of a policy on abortion.

He adds Maxime Bernier's People's Party is the best hope for Northern Ontario and Canada.

He is joined on the election trail by New Democrat incumbent Carol Hughes, Christian Heritage Party candidate Clarence Baarda, Stephen Zimmermann of the Green Party, Conservative John Sagman, and Liberal Duke Peltier.

Del Duca Visits Small Business Roundtable With Tim Vine, Campaigns With Peltier

The Ontario Liberal Party Leader, Steven Del Duca and the federal candidate, Duke Peltier, met with business leaders in Espanola.

The two met for a small business roundtable to listen to business owners and their concerns.

Del Duca says Ontario Liberals have been fighting hard for vaccine mandates and certificates, to protect the most vulnerable while keeping schools and the economy open. Peltier adds in rural Northern Ontario they are aware that small businesses have been disproportionately affected by the pandemic and strong leadership is needed to continue the recovery.

Following the roundtable, Del Duca joined Peltier and AM Liberal candidate Tim Vine and a group of volunteers for a canvas in Espanola.

The Election — Unnecessary, Uninspiring And Just Plain Ugly

Remember when Canadian elections were fun? The cutting cartoons, the gossip, the gaffes, the babies who would not be kissed? This expensive, unnecessary and possibly dangerous election is about as far from fun a plebiscite can get.

Canadians seldom vote for anybody; we usually vote against the candidate we like the least. Canadian voting patterns used to be quirky and interesting. We love the benefits of socialism but we have never given socialists the power in Ottawa.

September 20th should be the crisis election dubbed "The Climate Change Election". The Green Party should be getting all the attention but instead, with all the infighting, they should change their name to the Green Beret Party. Annamie Paul, battered, dismissed, a golden opportunity missed.

All things being equal, NDP leader Jagmeet Singh should be leading the race. He's young, cool and the smartest guy in this candidate's room. He's already saved us from two previous calls to polls, errant warning shots fired by Erin O'Toole across the bow of the ship Sunny Ways.

Vowing affordable housing, pharmacare and dental care, Singh embodies the 'greater good' of democracy in which the less fortunate citizens should also enjoy the spoils of society and not be left behind. Jagmeet Singh is running a distant third position.

Although Erin O'Toole is a significant upgrade from the lightweight, half-American Andrew Sheer. It's the 'buts' that worry me.

O'Toole states repeatedly that he is pro-choice and therefore pro-abortion... but he also supports 'conscience rights'. So if doctors have the right to refuse to perform the procedure for whatever reason, we could be headed back to the dark days of Henry Morgentaler and women fighting the state for control of their bodies.

O'Toole swears he supports our universal healthcare system... but he's also promoting a dangerous and vague "private sector innovation". That smacks of "for profit" medical care. The COVID-19 shutdown revealed the deadly consequences of "for profit" long term nursing homes.

In every Canadian election all candidates should take the "Tommy Douglas Oath" promising never to mess with our universal healthcare. Hell, it's the only thing we have left that assures us that we and the very rich, breathe the same air.

I was intending not to vote Liberal, disillusioned by the leader's list of really dumb decisions.

Yes, he proved to be a good manager of government affairs and a solid player on the world scene despite being slapped around by China. Surveys show 75% of Canadians believe Trudeau did a very good job of getting us through this pandemic. Compared to Doug Ford's leadership since the initial wave hit, Trudeau should be nominated for the pandemic Nobel Peace Prize.

But that Christmas vacation with the Aga Khan, the $12M to Loblaws to install new fridges, his minister of finance who, when declaring his assets, conveniently forgetting he owned a villa in South France — all stupid mistakes made by a privileged kid who's lived a sheltered life. Frankly, Justin Trudeau has had more dates with the Ethics Commission than his dad had with beautiful women.

And remember, when Jagmeet Singh puts on a turban he's not impersonating a Bollywood star in some ill-advised photo shoot in front of India's Taj Mahal.

I began by saying there's no fun in this election but thanks to the People's Party of Canada and Maxime Bernier, there is black humour. Bernier's view on everything from climate change to immigration and the pandemic are so extreme and assbackwards he could be sued by Donald Trump for theft of intellectual property. Not invited to participate in the TV election debates Bernier has however been granted three weeks worth of cartoons in the comic strip Bizarro.

So I'm about to cast my mail-in ballot when the Canadian election campaign got sucker punched in an ugly attack that was more violent than climate change and more devastating than the Afghanistan debacle.

The mob riot in Caledon, Ontario that drove the Trudeau campaign crew running for their lives was Canada's US Capitol riot moment. Every evil tool from Nazi symbols and racist taunts, from the vulgar language to death threats was used to shut down the right of free speech in this country. It was frightening, it was absolutely un-Canadian and gawd, it was so unoriginal. Ripping a page from Donald Trump's playbook, they chanted "Lock him up!" and made sick accusations of pedophilia as Trump's hate patrol did to Hillary Clinton. Even the "Mike Pence noose" was on display and fitted for our prime minister.

I realize that police were assaulted and overwhelmed but why are we not, as they are in Washington, identifying each of these lawbreakers and charging them with crimes of violence and hate?

So now I'm thinking if I also vote not to re-elect the prime minister, am I endorsing the will of that horde of haters? Or should I vote Liberal and hand the mob their worst nightmare? I mean, I may not be fond of the guy but 215 threats against Trudeau and his cabinet in the first six months of this year, as reported by the RCMP?! You can like him or dislike him but if you hate him, you have a serious problem.

Right now it seems like the winner of the election matters less than the survival of our Canadian democratic system. Respectful and responsible — that used to be how we treated our political representatives. Folks, we're in tight on this one.

Residents immediately affected each night are advised to close the main water valve in their homes and DO NOT attempt to use any water during swabbing hours. This is important to avoid drawing a piece of foam swab into your service and plugging it.

We ask that when you re-open the main water valve in your home following swabbing, that you turn on a cold water tap without a screen (laundry tub if possible) and let it run to flush any residue that may be left in your water service.

Residents not in the swabbing area could experience dirty water. If you experience dirty water, let your cold water run and it should clear up. If dirty water persists, please call 705-869-1751 between 8:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M.

Should you have any questions or experience low water pressure following swabbing, please call the Public Works Dept. between the hours of 8:00am to 4:00pm at 705-869-1751 or 705-222-7932 after hours.
