Reconciliation Walk Attracts Large Crowd

By Rosalind Russell - A joint Walk for Reconciliation had many community members take part.

Community members from Massey and Sagamok-Anishinabek First Nation held a joint walk Friday, February 18th to share a message of reconciliation with around 100 people taking part.

Although Sagamok Gimaa Alan Ozawanimke was not in attendance, he did provide a statement through his council that reconciliation will need both First Nations and non-natives to work together.

Organizers say the event was also in reaction to the release of videos on social media showing a male youth from Massey drinking and dancing to a drum song with a Every Child Matters flag wrapped around their body while others around him laughed and cheered him on.

Manitoulin OPP is continuing their investigation to see if the social media posts are considered racist.

Repeal of Emergencies Act Welcomed

Carol Hughes, MP
 Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing

With the announcement that the Emergencies Act has been officially repealed, Carol Hughes, MP for Algoma-Manitoulin-Kapuskasing, believes that the act has done its job.

"The NDP's decision to support the use of the Emergencies Act was not a step that was taken lightly," said Hughes. "As I've said from the beginning, the fact that the Emergencies Act even needed to be considered is an acknowledgement of failed leadership which allowed things to escalate unchecked since the beginning. It is a symptom of a system that has failed to uphold even the most basic laws and the implementation of the act will be a sobering event in Canadian History"

Due to the ongoing Freedom Convoy siege in Ottawa, the Emergencies Act was issued on February 15th under the measure of a 30-day Public Order Emergency that could be amended or revoked according to the stability or instability of the occupation. The NDP had been clear from the beginning that the act should be revoked as soon as it was no longer needed. The decision to revoke the act comes as law enforcement officials advised the Government earlier today that they believe they now have the powers needed to deal with any remaining threats. As a result of this information, NDP Leader Jagmeet Singh advised the Prime Minister that the Emergencies Act should be revoked.

"The Emergencies Act was meant only to assist local and provincial law enforcement to reach beyond their borders for assistance, which was a repeated request from Ottawa Police Services to contain the situation," said Hughes. "They didn't have the resources to deal with an occupation of this magnitude. It is truly unfortunate that it took the Emergencies Act to clear out the illegal convoy occupation"

"Now that it has been revoked, it is imperative that a full public inquiry be initiated to ensure that we get clarity on how we got to the point where it was necessary, and to determine the level of foreign influence that led to the city being occupied for over 25 days."

Espanola Legion Welcomes New Members – Resuming Normal Operations

The Espanola Royal Canadian Legion Branch #39 held its first general meeting to welcome new members and make plans for 2022.

President Gary McPherson and Legion members welcomed new members who were sworn in.

He says the Legion has fared well through the pandemic and is in a good financial position with over $100,000 in the various accounts, thanks to community and government funding supports.

The Poppy Fund alone raised over $19,000 last fall and the members will be deciding how to disperse the funds to assist with various local projects that meet requirements.

McPherson adds the election for the executive had to be delayed due to the pandemic and a motion was passed to maintain the executive in place for the reopening with elections slated for the Spring of next year.

Photo: The new guard was welcomed by the old guard as part of the swearing in of new members at the Espanola Royal Canadian Legion Branch #39 ceremony held on Wednesday, February 16, 2022. The Legion has now resumed normal operations with the lifting of COVID-19 restrictions, but is still recommending wearing masks and maintaining social distancing. Interfor Completes Acquisition Of Eacom Timber Corporation

Photo - Éric Larouche, formerly Vice President of Human Resources at EACOM, has been appointed Senior Vice President at Interfor and will now be responsible for all manufacturing and forestry operations in Eastern Canada. Photo provided by EACOM/Interfor and used with permission.

Interfor Corporation has announced it has completed the transaction to acquire 100% of the equity interests of EACOM Timber Corporation from an affiliate of Kelso & Company. Éric Larouche who has been appointed as Senior Vice President, Eastern Operations says the transaction was finalized on last Tuesday. Larouche, who was previously EACOM's human resources vice-president, will be responsible for Interfor's manufacturing and forestry operations throughout eastern Canada.

He says the purchase includes the sawmill operation in Nairn Centre.

Larouche adds the transaction does not have any immediate effects on day-to-day operations. He says Interfor is a growth-oriented forest products company with operations in Canada and the United States. The company has annual lumber production capacity of 4.9 billion board feet and offers a diverse line of lumber products to customers around the world. For more information about Interfor, visit the website at www.interfor.com.

Totten Mine East Of Nairn Reopening

Totten Mine located just east of Nairn Centre has reopened after being shut down for nearly six months.

According to Northern Ontario Business, head of Vale Ontario Operations, Gord Gilpin says the mine has reopened following repairs to a shaft that was damaged back on September 27th.

He says 39 miners were detained underground because of the damage, so the company is doing everything to ensure the incident does not occur again.

Gilpin says a bucket had come loose and lodged in the elevator shaft and the miners had to use another shaft to exit the underground, adding there were no injuries.

He adds all the miners and other employees have returned to work at the site this week.

Sudbury And First Nation Receiving Funding For Films

The Ontario government is providing over $11.4 million through the Northern Ontario Heritage Fund Corporation to support the growing film and television industry in Northern Ontario.

Greg Rickford, Minister of Northern Development, Mines, Natural Resources and Forestry made the announcement yesterday, which includes funding for Sudbury and a First Nation, which will create jobs and expand the north's reputation when it comes to filmmaking.

Spinner Productions Incorporated will receive $1-million dollars to produce the six-episode television series called Shoresy in Sudbury.

Atikameksheng Anishnawek First Nation near Lively will be the location for the documentary, Aki by Aki the Film Incorporated with a $200,000 grant.

A total of 27 projects are receiving funding.

School Boards Approve Calendars For 2022-23 School Year

School boards across the three districts of Sudbury, Manitoulin and Algoma have finalized their calendars for the 2022-23 school year.

The school boards in the three districts have created a common calendar to share bus services, holidays and professional development days.

Their respective calendars will be submitted to the Ministry of Education for final approval.

There are minor differences between the six, which are provided in detail on our websites.

Conseil scolaire catholique Nouvelon, Rainbow District

School Board, Sudbury Catholic District School Board, Conseil scolaire public du Grand Nord de l'Ontario, Algoma District School Board, and Huron Superior Catholic District School Board have approved the School Year Calendar for 2022-2023.

Recipe

These are really, really good! Like eat the whole pan of them with your friend good! They are perfect, and taste delicious. The flaky pastry is perfect with the creamy crab filling. I used imitation crab because I prefer it in dips and like the slight sweetness it adds. They really aren't difficult to make and even if you don't form them perfectly (which I didn't) they still look good when they puff up from baking and come out of the oven. I thought the filling might melt and run all over, but it doesn't. This is going to be one of my new favourite appetizers.

Crab Filled Crescent Wontons

- 1-8 oz. tube Pillsbury crescent roll dough
- 3 oz. cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 3/4 cup cooked crabmeat, chopped (canned crab or imitation crab)
- 2 green onions, chopped
- 1/8- 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- salt and pepper, to taste

Heat oven to 375°F. Spray cookie sheet with cooking spray. Unroll dough on work surface. Pinch seams to seal and roll with a rolling pin to create an even rectangle. Cut into 6 rows by 4 rows to make 24 squares. In small bowl, mix cream cheese, mayo, crabmeat, onion, and red pepper. Add salt and pepper to taste. Divide crab mixture evenly among the squares, dropping it by spoonfuls that are 1/2 inch from 1 corner of each square. Starting with one corner, fold dough over filling diagonally, and tuck end tightly underneath filling. Fold opposite corner of dough over filling diagonally and press to seal. Place on cookie sheet. Bake 10 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from cookie sheet. Serve warm.
