Living, working, and playing on the Northshore & Manitoulin area with family and friends is what life is all about for Al Wright. His family ties to the Lee Valley area on the North shore date back to 1905 & back to the late 1800's on Manitoulin in the Spring Bay area. Al returned "home" in late 1995 working on Manitoulin & the North Shore where he and his wife Jocelyne raised their three children. Al and his family often meet up at "the cabin" which they built together on Maple Lake situated in the spectacular foothills of the La Cloche Mountain Range.

Public Comment Sought On Safety Booms For Local Dams

Photo - New safety booms or replacements are being considered for five dams on the Spanish and Vermillion Rivers. Photo provided - Vale

By Rosalind Russell - Vale says it has made submissions to the Navigable Waters Registry for new safety booms and relocation of others on five local dams on the Spanish and Vermillion rivers. According to the company, public comment is being sought on the five: Big Eddy, High Falls 1 and 2, Nairn Falls and Wabagishik.

The company has undertaken safety assessments on all five to improve safety measures already in place. The equipment is required under legislation with portages also available. Public comment is required since the dams are located on navigable waters. Send comments to: environment.ontario@vale.com

Mothering Sunday

Mothering Sunday is not to be confused with the practice of Mother's Day.

Mothering Sunday dates back to the 16th century in England. On this special day people would attend honour the church where they were baptized as a child. Not all Christian denominations believe in infant or children being baptized (a theological question for some other time.) Some denominations will dedicate infants or children. Of course, in baptism or dedication there is an emphasize that the parents will bring their child up in the Christian faith.

Mothering Sunday was an opportunity for individuals to reconnect with the primary church that fostered their spiritual growth as a Christian and understanding of God. The church where they were initiated into the family of God.

Mothering Sunday is celebrated on the fourth Sunday during lent. The tradition of Mothering Sunday gradually started to be neglected. However, some parishes in Britian continue to practice this tradition. For the most part it has been replaced with Mother's Day in which the emphasis is on their mother rather than their home church. For many it would be difficult due to distance to attend the church that they first called home. Instead, it has become a day when Christians might consider going to the church where they have found a connection. This would be called their home church. I think of this as a church which has adopted them as a child of God in the Body of Christ. Although they attend functions at that church, they only find themselves on special seasons such as Christmas and Easter going to a worship service.

The members of St. George's, Espanola are celebrating their hundredth year in 2024. To commemorate this special year, we are inviting people on Sunday, March 10th to come to the Eucharist service at 11 a.m. There will be refreshments after service. Instead of serving the traditional simnel cake, which is similar to a fruit cake, they are choosing an easier option, a carrot cake. All are invited; however, I would encourage you to reconnect with the church you call home. Do not worry, the ceiling will not cave in. Even if they are not celebrating Mothering Sunday your Heavenly Father will be happy to see you there.

Submitted by Reverend Beverly van der Jagt (St. George's Anglican Church and The United Church of Espanola)

CLARIFICATION / CORRECTION

In the February 20th issue, we published a story titled "Espanola Council Approves Rent Support for Helping Hand Food Bank."

The title implied that Council has granted the request for rent support, which is incorrect. This matter has been referred to the Corporate Services Committee for review.

Around and About apologizes for the error.

Preparing For The Solar Eclipse

Photos - Dortwood Observatory in Webbwood will host solar eclipse safety seminars and show how to safely watch a solar eclipse. It is expected to occur April 8th. Photos provided by Dortwood Observatory.

By Rosalind Russell - April 8th is a day off from school for children due to the solar eclipse and a local area observatory is preparing the public for the event.

David Doherty and Carolyn Wood, owners of Dortwood Observatory in Webbwood, say they will be hosting two information sessions for the public on solar eclipses and how to safely watch the event. Doherty says the first will be held March 11th at the Webbwood Library, the second the next afternoon at the Massey Library, both starting at 1 pm.

He says the Learning about Eclipses demonstrations will assist the public in making proper solar viewing face plates as well as solar box viewers, adding solar glasses are only available through purchase at the libraries or at The Vintage Source in the Espanola Mall. Doherty says the main event on April 8 has a 1:45 pm start and will be at the Massey Library from where they will live stream it while the Webbwood branch will have a volunteer or two streaming outdoors with glasses and boxes.
